Kalamazoo — Michelle Osbourne, 2; Kenneth Osbourne, 8; and Mark Osbourne, 4, all of 1487 Agard. A fourth child, Mrs. Daugherty's 10-month-old daughter, Trudy, was treated and released at South Haven Community hospital. State police said accident occurred about 5:25 p.m. on M-140 north of CR-378 and remains under investigation. Dotson and Mrs. Daugherty eventually were freed by Covert township firemen. (Tom Renner Photos)

Government Maps Laetrile Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials are mapping plans this week for conducting case studies of several hundred cancer patients who claim the controversial substance Laetrile helped them.

The officials believe the patients' experiences will confirm their diagnosis that the purported cancer cure is worthless. They said, however, that if the review does not conclusively support their stand, the government would consider testing Laetrile for the first time on volunteer cancer patients.

The director of the National Cancer Institute, Dr. Arthur C. Upton, said Sunday the government will decide how to pick the cases it will review in a meeting among representatives of his agency, the Food and Drug Administration and the Center for Disease Control.

He did not say when the meeting will be held. Warning that the government still sees no evidence of Laetrile's usefulness, Upton said, "the only basis on which one would decide to do a trial comes from anecdotal information about patients who have received the drug" — in other words, the patients' own stories. Upton was questioned on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Laetrile is banned from shipment across state lines by federal law. A dozen states have legalized its sale, however.

Upton's deputy, Dr. Guy R. Newell, said public pressure played a part in the decision to study human cases.

In a telephone interview Sunday night, Newell said the planned review hopes to "collect cases of people who have been treated (with Laetrile) to collect objective information, so we can determine whether there are some bona fide remissions."

The government has said its reviews of Laetrile supporters' claims show the proponents "do not provide the kinds of adequate and self-controlled studies needed to show the effectiveness of a drug"

Newell said the government may study X-rays, slides and charts of several hundred patients who used Laetrile.

Investigators would try to confirm that the patients actually had cancer, if their tumors were reduced and whether they had conventional cancer therapy that could have been responsible for the change. If improved patients had conventional treatment, it would be "difficult to prove the effects were from Laetrile," he said.

To find the test cases, federal officials may enlist the aid of state health departments; federal disease investigators like those who tracked down the cause of Legionnaire's Disease; state medical societies; and state legislatures, which could require that Laetrile treatments be reported to the government.

If the government decides to conduct Laetrile tests on patients who have never used it, doctors would face several ethical problems, Newell said.

"In the past, we (experimented with) drugs that had laboratory success," he commented. "We would do it with the full intent and backup evidence that the drug is going to be useful. With Laetrile, we would have to tell them we have no evidence that it does good."

School Chief Is Quitting

JAMES TACKMANN
To resign post

FENNIVILLE — James Tackmann, Fennville school superintendent, will submit his resignation to the Fennville school board which is scheduled to meet in a special session tonight.

Tackmann said over the weekend he wants to be released from his contract so he can accept the position of superintendent of schools at Cedar Springs, north of Grand Rapids. The school board, in its special session tonight, is scheduled to act on the resignation.

Tackmann came to Fennville in March, 1971, as an elementary principal and served in that position until his appointment as superintendent in July, 1974. Tackmann said his reasons for moving are financial.

His present salary is $24,500 yearly on a contract that runs through July, 1979.

Michigan Wine Tasters Too Bitter?

DETROIT (AP) — Some Michigan wine tasters are accused of being too bitter about their own state's product. That charge came to a head Saturday when one of 13 judges walked out at the first annual commercial wine judging at the Michigan State Fair. Judge Dave Brandt of Kalamazoo protested that other judges were not competent, then explained that he was unhappy because the judges were giving low grades to many Michigan wines. He charged that California wine tasters hand out more gold medals to wines from their home state. And, he said, those gold medals are used by the California wine industry to promote its product against some of the wines from Michigan. He said Michigan wines ought to get more favorable treatment — especially from judges in the state. Brandt later revised his criticism to say he was talking about the judging system used in Michigan, not the individual judges. "We are far too critical judging Michigan against Michigan. We have to go out and sell our products and this type of showing will hurt our future," said another judge, Sam Lieberman of Paw Paw. Dr. Gordon Howell, director of wine and grape research at Michigan State University and a member of the judges' panel said, "Saying there are no good Michigan wines is like saying there are no good Michigan-made automobiles just because they aren't Mercedes. For a first effort, this was exceptionally well done."

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

How Not To Conduct Law Enforcement

Rivalry among police groups and civilian agencies in government is as old as the Constitution itself.

Its premise in structuring the governmental apparatus is to set the executive, legislative and judicial branches in check and balance against one another so as to prevent the concentration of power under a single head, thereby placing individual liberty in jeopardy.

The application of that noble purpose has been carried out through the past two centuries reasonably well, but not without some imperfections, one being that there is nothing wrong and quite possibly some benefit in having more than one section in government working away on a single problem.

The responsibility for law enforcement in Michigan, typical to many states, aptly illustrates this managerial multiplicity.

The sheriff runs a county. A city or township police force functions within those smaller territorial confines.

The state police functions at will throughout Michigan.

For the most part, cooperation between the three types can be called a good day-to-day working arrangement, but every so often neighborliness waves as one unit may feel another is intruding unduly into the former's preserve.

The state police have felt this chilliness for decades.

Created by executive order when the U.S. entered World War I as a special troop to guard against sabotage, the state police were perpetuated by the legislature as a full fledged enforcement agency following the war's end.

The original concept thought in terms of a highly trained, mobile force functioning within rural areas lacking the financial resources to provide sufficient manpower for local police groups.

Another concentration in the legislature's mind was highway patrol outside incorporated communities.

Today the state police perform a total law enforcement job without regard to local political lines.

Much as the public appreciates their proficiency, as witness the protests from the New Buffalo area when that post was consolidated into the Benton Harbor post as an economy move two years ago, this excellence periodically spawns resentment from the other agencies.

The latest example surfaced last week.

A year ago Governor Milliken assigned a large number of troopers to patrol the major highways in Wayne county.

Milliken took the step in an effort to assist the Detroit area's local tax and financial difficulties.

This rubbed the unionized members in the Wayne county sheriff's department the wrong way and in this session of the legislature they prevailed upon the House members from their county to push through a bill subsidizing the Wayne department with a grant for highway patrol.

The Senate rejected the measure, mainly because it was such an obvious boondoggle.

Its defeat came about through a compromise between Milliken and the Senate's Democratic leaders to retain the trooper patrols and extend them to other city freeways, with some extra funding going to the sheriff's department.

The original version and the compromise now rest in a House-Senate conference committee.

David Holmes, an influential Senate Democrat and chairman of the Senate's Appropriations subcommittee on state police, has another solution.

He would cut the state police back to highway patrol and turn over their functions to local agencies and other state departments.

He accuses the state police of empire building.

Dismantling the force, he solemnly assured the reporters attending his press conference, "will thwart empire building, and will help insure the civil liberties and right to accountability from law enforcement to the people of Michigan by enhancing local control of law enforcement."

Sounds like Patrick Henry or Thomas Jefferson, doesn't it?

When told of that pronouncement, Milliken responded, "Is he serious?"

Of course, the Hon. Holmes is serious.

He wants the unions to run the police departments in Michigan.

HERE'S WHAT THE NATIVES SAY

Editor,
My daughter and I met a man from Panama on a plane trip back to the U.S.

The Panama Canal issue had been going on for some time so I asked the man how he felt about the United States in relation to the Canal. He replied that he thought the United States was the best country in the world. He also said that he came from a very old family in Panama and in his estimation it would be a big mistake to hand over the Canal to a "two-bit general," since the Panamanians would only be able to run it about two weeks with their scant knowledge. He said, besides, Colombia or some other Latin American country would try to take it over right away.

I read where the Panamanian general is a friend of Castro's, and we certainly don't want the Communists taking over as they did in Cuba.

So much has been said about the Canal being outdated and that seven hundred ships are too large to go through the Canal, but no mention is made about the fifteen thousand ships that are able to use it. There is a steady stream of ships waiting to go through on either side.

This spring (on coming home from Florida), I sat next to a man from Puerto Rico. He was a college professor on his way to a conference in Minneapolis.

Again, my curiosity aroused, I asked him how the Puerto Ricans felt about the United States. He said there was a small group of agitators that wanted independence for their country; but most of the people wanted Puerto Rico to become the fifty-first state. The Puerto Ricans also thought they should be a military stronghold for the United States in the Caribbean. I thought the public might be interested in what a Panamanian and a Puerto Rican had to say on current topics of conversation.

COMMITTEE FORMED TO AID POW/MIA'S

Editor,
On July 7, 1977, the National Human Rights Committee for POW/MIA's was officially formed in Wallen, New York, by concerned citizens and dedicated Americans. Our main purpose is to remind the Congress and the Senate, and most of all, the people in the White House, that there are 1,300 men still missing from the Vietnam War, and that we are demanding a complete accounting of them. It's the same war we, the fighting men, did not lose. It was lost by the politicians. We, therefore, request, since they lost the war, they should at least do everything to give a full and satisfactory accounting of all the 1,300 men in Southeast Asia.

We are also looking for concerned and dedicated people who would like to help us and work with our committee. To help enlarge this committee, state and nation-wide, we must do everything humanly possible while there is still hope for these men. We have government documents, fact sheets, and slides to view to prove that these 1,300 men are still waiting for your help. Don't trade their lives in exchange for oil, mining rights, and neutralization with the communist countries.

For more information, please call (914) 778-3096.

Sen. Charles O. Zellar is being buried in his Lansing office by mail from constituents venting their feelings against Michigan's "fast" time. But nothing can be done about the time until the issue comes up for a vote in the November 1968 general election, so Zellar is urging an end to the mail.

Bard school can be made operational for the start of classes Sept. 7, Det. William Ruchinski, a deputy state fire marshal, said yesterday after inspecting the building where fire broke out early Sunday. Benton township Fire Investigator Lt. Kenneth Polmanter said the blaze had been set in at least three places. He tentatively pegged the damage at $50,000. Evidence indicating arson includes a two-gallon can and scrawlings on an office wall: "I'll burn the world down for Ruby," and other messages expressing affection for "Ruby."

To meet increasing business in Berrien county, the Michigan Bell Telephone company has created a new district — the Benton Harbor district. It was announced today by Paul J. Leslie, division commercial superintendent. John R. Murray, formerly an assistant manager at Saginaw, has been named to head the commercial department in the new district. Until the present time, areas included in the new district were a part of the Kalamazoo district. Creation of the new district emphasizes the growing importance to the company of its operations in this area and the fact that the area is one of the fastest-growing users of telephones in Michigan.

New Emphasis On Human Needs

WASHINGTON — In the fairy tale world of the federal government, a benevolent nod from the White House can transform a tattered stepchild of public policy into a budding Cinderella virtually overnight.

A year ago, it is doubtful that more than a handful of idealists scattered throughout the bureaucracy ever gave so much as a passing thought to the role the United States should play in improving health conditions elsewhere in the world.

Under Presidents Nixon and Ford, American contributions to other nations were characterized by wheat deals and weapons transfers — not wonder drugs and water purification projects.

But President Carter's decision to redirect U.S. foreign aid towards meeting the "basic human needs" of people in the world's poorest countries has given a new cachet to international health issues.

Dr. Peter Bourne, a psychiatrist who is a longtime close associate of the president, has been placed in charge of a crash interagency study aimed at identifying existing U.S. health programs abroad and recommending objectives for the future.

Government agencies and the academic community, taking their cue from the White House, are suddenly focusing on the health problems of other countries, particularly the developing nations.

HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr., who did not even realize when he assumed office that his sprawling department had any programs directed at international health needs, has now assigned specialists in the field to his own staff.

The National Institute of Medicine, an arm of the prestigious National Academy of Sciences, is conducting a study of U.S. health initiative abroad at the request of congressional committees.

And earlier this year, the American delegation to a world water conference in Argentina was headed not by the usual engineering experts but by top-level environmentalists — and disease control specialists.

"That may not sound very significant, but it was noticed and appreciated by other countries," said Bourne, in a recent interview. "If we did nothing but clean up the world's water supply, 50 million lives per year could be saved."

Bourne, who has traveled extensively throughout much of the so-called Third World to discuss health problems in developing nations, believes there is a real opportunity for the U.S. to extend a helping hand in eradicating disease and elevating health standards of the poorer countries.

Unlike most foreign aid programs, he noted, health assistance is generally regarded as non-political. Many developing nations which might shun other types of American help would be grateful for our medical expertise and environmental health advice.

Bourne is already serving as an unofficial U.S. emissary to more than a dozen nations that currently have no diplomatic relations with this country and has been encouraged by President Carter to explore ways of "using health to bring us closer to these nations."

There are certainly worse ways to spend our money abroad. Building palaces for dictators and selling sophisticated arms all over the world has done little to promote the well-being of ordinary citizens elsewhere and a great deal to undermine domestic support for any kind of foreign aid program.

The international health campaign which Bourne is now attempting to develop is a logical and welcome aspect of President Carter's foreign policy emphasis on human rights and human needs.

Alternatives To Postal Hike

WASHINGTON — This month, the capital is occupied only by a visiting army of sweltering tourists, who had the misfortune not to have heard in advance about the annual heat, humidity, and general incidence.

This city has never made August the official vacation month, putting everyone on notice about the local exodus, as Paris sensibly has. But it amounts to the same thing.

The President and Congress have fled, taking most of the rest of government with them. Even the reporters, or perhaps especially the reporters, are gone. The town is so empty that finding a parking place downtown is actually possible without having a hearty attack.

Since hardly a soul remains to cause trouble or peddle a favorite issue, one might think there is nothing for a writer to complain about. One might be wrong. There is always the Postal Service.

You know, the U.S. mails. The outfit that neither rain nor sleet nor snow nor August can deter from its appointed rounds. The outfit that government turned over to private enterprise six years ago to demonstrate once and for all the truth of the old adage that businessmen can run things more efficiently than politicians can.

So much for sleet, snow, and old adages. The Postal Service is a national disgrace. Service has declined in direct proportion to its increased cost. Its projected deficit for next year is $2.5 billion; last year it lost $1.2 billion. At the same time, letters which used to be delivered in three days cross-country now take as much as a week, if they arrive at all.

Not that the old government-run Post Office was perfect. I once had a letter addressed to Marvin Watson returned with the stamp "addressee unknown." He was postmaster general at the time. But something has to be done if the letter as a routine and cheap form of communication is not to disappear altogether. Congress will begin hearings in September on whether or not to take back the Postal Service, pay its bills and shape it up.

The Postal Service itself has a less drastic solution — it wants to charge individuals 13 cents a stamp for personal letters and businesses 16 cents a stamp for official mail. This has prompted a rash of complaints from citizens suspicious that letters with the cheaper stamp will get slower service. Also, the 13-cent letters will require a handwritten address — presumably, if you forget and type the note to your aunt it will never get delivered.

There's another possibility, however, which the Postal Service has apparently never considered. (That's because I just thought it up.) Instead of raising postage stamp costs, why not change the whole basic free delivery system? The Postal Service now charges for post office boxes, which require the consumer to act as his own delivery service but save wear and tear on postal employees. Yet it does not charge for home delivery, which requires more work by postal employees and no effort by the customer. Why not reverse the system?

Talks Resume

TOKYO (AP) — The United States and Japan resumed negotiations today on Japan's proposal to operate its new nuclear reprocessing plant.

The talks began Feb. 22. The United States has refused to agree to operation of the plant at Tokai Village because in addition to enriched uranium for the generation of nuclear power, it would produce plutonium that could be used for nuclear weapons.

American Flags On Yugoslav Jeans

Although it is difficult to feel compassion for the commissars who run things, after a fashion, in the communist world, it is possible to understand why the communists have so much trouble with their production systems — if one appreciates the strong pull economic supply and demand has on human nature.

Karl Marx would never agree, of course, but then the Soviet Union among others has been moving away from his theories for years, simply to accomplish something. That is not, in say capitalism has come to the USSR, at least not officially.

But after decades of trying to stifle private initiative someone in the Kremlin has had the good sense to recognize that is like trying to stop the sun from rising. All over the communist world today can be found small enterprises catering to the consumer. Whether it is a family nursing a small plot of ground into vegetable production for its own use or sale to its neighbors or a craftsman turning out hand-made articles for sale or barter, the state has learned not to frown too harshly.

Sometimes the rulers even promote such efforts, as when disastrous state harvests threaten hunger and unrest. But from Yugoslavia comes the ultimate test of consumerism — replicas of the American flag are showing up as emblems on jeans and other articles of clothing.

That isn't all. The articles with the U.S. emblem are manufactured in state factories. That ought to make the boys in the Kremlin choke on their vodka.

Body Found; Foul Play Eyed

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

HARTFORD — Murder is suspected in the death of an unidentified man whose body was found floating in the Paw

Paw river Sunday morning three miles northeast of here, according to the Van Buren county sheriff's department. Van Buren county Sheriff Richard Stump said today an autopsy showed the man apparently had been hit in the face and forehead with a sharp instrument. Stump said that the exact cause of death has not officially been determined, but that "foul play is suspected."

The body is believed to be that of a male between the ages of 45 and 60. Stump said the body was "so badly decomposed" authorities are not sure of its race, but believe it was that of a white man.

The body was nude except for shoes and socks when discovered floating in the river by Richard Kimp, route 1, box 279, Hartford. Kimp, his wife and two sons, had just started a canoe trip from CR-681, heading toward Hartford, when they discovered the body. Kimp continued to the home of Stephen Shafer, on the river, and notified police by phone.

The Van Buren county sheriff's marine patrol removed the body from the river about 1:25 p.m. Dr. Daniel F. Glaser, Kalamazoo pathologist who examined the body along with Dr. A.L. Stagg, Van Buren county deputy medical examiner, estimated the body had been in the water from two to 10 days.

Sheriff Stump said fingerprints and dental records will be checked in an effort to identify the body. He said his department had no missing person reports for a man in that age group.

Deputies said they are investigating the possibility that the body floated down the river from another location or that the man died at another location and was dumped into the river upstream from Hartford.

Western Faculty Picketing

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Faculty members picketed early this morning as classes opened at Western Michigan University.

The faculty, members of Western's chapter of the American Association of University Professors, had voted 273-258 to strike Sunday night, just two hours before their contract expired.

Dave Selden, the executive director of Western's AAUP chapter, said students were expected to join the pickets, said to number 200, but "students don't get up this early."

Selden said the walkout would last until the university gives in to the professors' demand of scheduled salary raises.

The instructors were not calling the action a strike. Under Michigan law faculty members at state institutions cannot strike.

The action, said the faculty union, stems from an unfair labor practices charge it filed earlier this month with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission. That charge involved new university rules of faculty conduct.

Union officials said unresolved issues include wages and benefits, student-faculty ratio and work load.

Western officials said the university was open and students had been instructed to report to classes.

"Qualified staff will be on hand to instruct" Western's student body of more than 20,000, a spokeswoman said.

'20th' Fire Reported At Project

Benton township firemen reported an unoccupied mobile home was destroyed by flames, and "at least the 20th" blaze this summer was extinguished in a trash container at Blossom Acres public housing.

The mobile home fire was discovered at 5:50 a.m. Sunday in Ravines Mobile Home park, 2088 East Empire avenue. Police officer Tom Street said he saw the fire while on patrol and tried to enter the home to see if anyone was inside but was driven back by heavy smoke.

Firemen reported cause of the blaze was undetermined and loss was estimated at about $4,000. They identified the owner as William A. Newton.

The trash container fire was extinguished at 3 a.m. today on Concord street. Firemen said like the other fires at Blossom Acres it appeared to have been set deliberately. No damage was reported.

Smashup Hurts Boys US 31-33

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Two Berrien Springs teenagers were hospitalized following a two-car crash on US 31-33 south of here yesterday afternoon.

Listed in fair condition this morning at Berrien General hospital, Berrien Center, were Bradley Kerr, 120 College avenue, and his passenger, Scott Campbell, 709 Dogwood drive. Both are 16.

Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police said Kerr was driving an auto south, near the St. Joseph river bridge, when the auto hit a wet spot and he lost control. Police said the auto crossed the center line and crashed nearly head on with a northbound car driven by Keith Cowden, 43, 792 Lonesome Pine trail, St. Joseph. Cowden was not injured in the 3:10 p.m. accident, police said.

Kerr was issued a ticket for driving left of center, according to police.

August Finally Turns On Heat

By JERRY KRIEGER
Farm & Features Editor

Southwestern Michigan saw the mercury rise into the 90s for the first time this month over the weekend.

Warm air fanned into the area by strong southerly breezes produced highs of 92 on Saturday and 91 on Sunday at the Paw Paw village public works department, and 90 both days at the Sodus Experiment Farm.

Unofficial temperatures in the sun ran even higher, and one reading in Watervliet Saturday noon touched 98 degrees.

Heavy showers Friday evening and Sunday afternoon and evening produced around an inch and a half of moisture. Herbert Tiechman, grower-weather observer near Eau Claire, reported 1.62 inches of precipitation pushed total August rainfall to 5.54 inches.

Arnold Hafer, foreman at the Sodus Experiment Farm, said the temperature through August has been 80 degrees or above only seven days.

The National Weather Service predicted sunny weather would develop this afternoon and continue through Tuesday. Temperatures were forecast to hold in the high 70s or low 80s Tuesday.

BH Teachers Training; Classes To Start Sept. 6

Nearly 525 Benton Harbor Area Schools teachers were reporting to work today to start a week-long series of training sessions in advance of the Sept. 6 opening of school.

In-service training will last until Thursday afternoon, and includes a review of new evaluation instruments, testing procedures and classroom preparation for students.

Some 10,304 classroom students are expected back Sept. 6, with adult education students enrolling later and pushing the district student enrollment over last year's official count of 10,350. Increases in enrollment are predicted in both elementary and secondary division, and in special education.

If enrollment projections prove accurate, it will be the second year in a row that southwestern Michigan's largest school district failed to register in the statewide crisis of rapid enrollment declines. Last year a small decrease in the official enrollment count was due to changes in the counting of adult education students, according to Larry Rankens, Group director of business and finance.

Expected enrollment breaks down to 5,870 elementary students, 400 special education, 140 pre-school, 2,380 at Benton Harbor high, 274 at Hull, 590 at Fairplain, and 650 at Benton Harbor 7th grade center.

No changes have been made in daily operating schedules. High school students will report to school at 8 a.m., with dismissal for many students at 1:05 p.m. For those with sixth-hour classes, the senior high day will end at 2:40 p.m.

All three 7th Grade Centers will operate on an 8:15 a.m. to 2:50 p.m. school day.

Starting times for elementary schools vary according to location. Schools within city limits of Benton Harbor operate from 8:30 a.m. to 2:35 p.m. This includes Morton, King, Seely McCord, Columbus, Calvin Britain and Sterne Brunson schools. All other elementary schools start at 8:55 a.m. and end the school day at 3 p.m.

Lunches will be served in all schools beginning the first day of school. This includes all 23 elementary schools, Benton Harbor high school, and the three 7th grade centers. Lunch periods are adjusted at each school to handle the enrollment and facilities.

Lunch tickets will be sold for the first week of school, four days, at a cost of $2. School lunch prices have not increased this year, so a regular lunch ticket for a full week, five days, will cost $2.50, or 50 cents daily.

A half-pint of milk is included with all lunches. Students who bring lunch or wish additional milk can buy tickets for 50 cents good for 10 half-pints.

Principals in each school also have information about qualifications for both reduced-price and free school lunches. The federal government sponsors a program that allows either reduced-price or free lunches for some school children depending on income level and number of dependents.

Registration for students new to the area is underway. Parents seeking information about school registrations should visit the nearest neighborhood school or call 926-1141 during normal business hours Monday through Friday.

Musical Swaps Are Encouraged

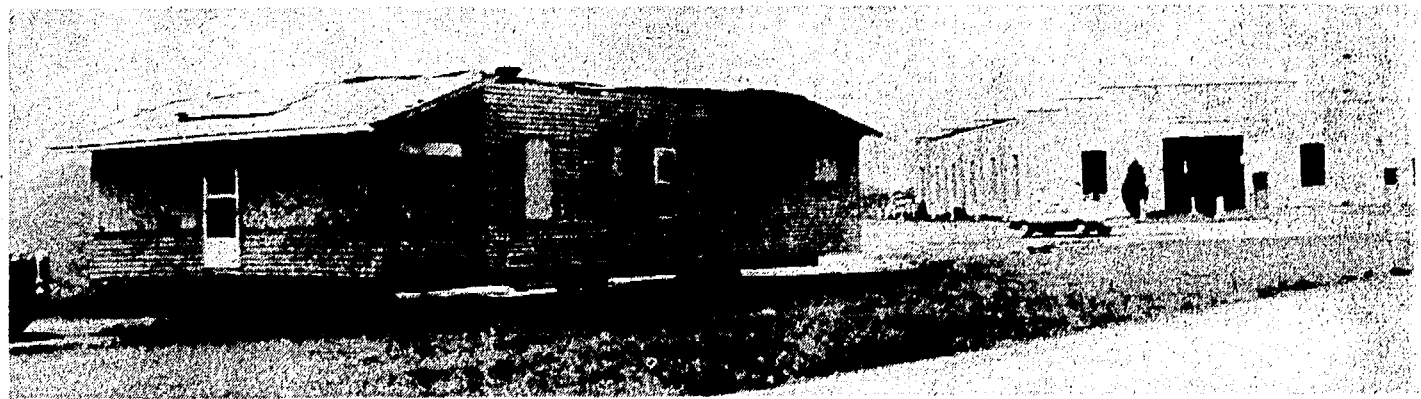

Parents with seldom-used older musical instruments still in good condition may be interested in a "musical swap" being coordinated by members of the Benton Harbor Area Schools music department.

"Many parents have such equipment around the house from prior band participation, and would like very much to see that someone else gets the same enjoyment from the instrument they remember," said Patrick Neuman, coordinator of music.

"On the other hand, many parents of elementary students just beginning their musical experience could make much better use of a used instrument than a new one," he added.

Neuman asks that parents wanting to sell band instruments contact the music office at 926-7291 during normal business hours. Information needed includes make and type of instrument, condition, and price desired. If possible, arrangements for interested parents and students to examine the instrument should also be made available.

"Elementary band classes are about to begin so we are urging all parents interested in selling used instruments to call us as soon as possible," said Neuman. Members of the band staff will be working directly with new students to obtain instruments.

HOUSE MOVE STALLED: Berrien sheriff's officers said they ordered this house stored at Berrien county road commission garage south of Baroda after deputies observed truck pulling building on trailer and learned permit to transport oversize load had not been obtained. Deputy Dean Kugle said house owner Theodore Parrigan, 33, of 6610 Clymer road, rural Coloma, was ticketed at 7:50 a.m. Sunday for failure to obtain county road commission permit when Kugle observed house blocking both north and southbound lanes of Stevensville-Baroda road in Baroda. Kugle said Parrigan told him house was being moved from Red Arrow highway near I-94, Lincoln township, to lot on Hills road, south of Shawnee road, Baroda township. (Staff photo)

Coloma's New Assessor Will Not Serve In Post

By STEVE MCQUOWN
Assistant State Editor

COLOMA — The city of Coloma apparently won't have the services of the Van Buren county man the city commission hired as assessor a week ago.

William Colgren, the Arlington township supervisor hired at a $4,500 annual salary last Monday by the Coloma city commission, told this newspaper late last week he doesn't want the job now.

Colgren, a state certified Level I assessor, took the oath of office for the job Thursday, a few minutes before learning that a Level II certification is required.

A farmer, Colgren said he won't have time to study for and take the test for a Level II certificate.

The State Assessor's Board requires that an assessor for a city the size of Coloma have a Level II certificate, according to Francis Rawlinson, the director of the Berrien county tax equalization department.

Coloma Mayor Glenn Randall said that city officials are embarrassed because when they interviewed Colgren, and subsequently hired him, they didn't know a Level II certified assessor was needed.

"We should have investigated the requirements more thoroughly. It is regrettable that we slipped. We were not intending to embarrass Mr. Colgren or the city," Mayor Randall said Saturday.

Randall said that because Colgren took the oath of office for the assessor's job, a formal notice of resignation will probably be required if Colgren chooses not to take the job.

The Arlington township supervisor was one of 12 applicants for the city position that has been vacant since last April.

Still Less Than 20 Years Ago

NEW YORK — If you think the price of gasoline is too high, compare it to the cost of some other everyday items you purchase, suggests Judi Hampton, consumer affairs director for a major oil company.

"As most shoppers are aware, average consumer prices have risen significantly in the past 20 years — 110 per cent since 1956. But gasoline prices have risen at a slower rate of 106 per cent," observes Miss Hampton.

"However, since many people neglect to figure the cost of gasoline in planning their budgets, price increases tend to take you by surprise.

"Actually, allowing for inflation, the American consumer today pays two per cent less for gasoline than for many other products, compared to 20 years ago," Miss Hampton says.

"And while the price of gasoline may seem high, it takes a smaller chunk of your paycheck to buy a gallon today than it did in 1956." In 1974 dollars, the average wage-earner need work only three-quarters as long as he did in 1956 to earn enough money for one gallon of gasoline.

According to a study conducted by the American Petroleum Institute in 1976, the average consumer spends about as much on alcohol and tobacco as on gasoline and motor oil. He spends 1.5 times as much on furniture, five times as much on food and 5.4 times more on federal taxes.

"Of course, gasoline isn't cheap," says Miss Hampton. "But 20 years ago, the United States imported only a small amount of the oil we consumed. In 1976, the United States was importing more than 40 per cent of its needed oil supply. And today it costs more to find and produce domestic oil than 20 years ago."

In 1973 and 1974, when Americans became concerned about the price of gasoline because of the Arab oil embargo, gasoline prices rose faster than wages. But for 19 consecutive years prior to 1974, the relative cost of gasoline, including taxes, decreased by nearly 40 per cent.

Average wages have risen steadily since World War II, and during many of those years, gasoline prices either declined or held steady. Since 1947, noted Miss Hampton, wages have increased 311 per cent, while gasoline prices, excluding taxes, have risen 178 per cent.

Food Prices To Level Off

September means the end of summer and the start of the fall harvest, which promises to be a good one, according to Maryann Beckman, District Extension Consumer Marketing Information Agent. Farmers are expected to harvest near-record corn and wheat crops which should hold this year's food price increases to six per cent. and possibly less next year.

Mrs. Beckman continued:

Food prices should level off and then remain stable through mid-1978, which is welcome news to all consumers who have been hit by higher energy, transportation, housing and medical costs. Lower food prices overall will mean less strain on back-to-school clothes and supplies budgets, too.

Beef prices are likely to go up slightly this fall due to some decline in numbers of animals available for market. How much they go up will depend on how much you buy. If consumer demand does not hold up, neither will prices. Retail prices for pork may hold at current levels into the fall. Because of high losses from weather and disease in early 1977, the fall pig crop may be smaller than usual. Normally, pork prices drop in the fall.

The summer heat wave caused heavy death losses to chickens, but supplies are still record large so prices will remain about as they have been. Though you won't see many special features advertised, turkeys are another reasonably priced meat choice for fall menus.

It looks like fish may be back in the bargain priced range soon, for the fish catch for United States boats off New England shores has increased by 28 per cent since March 30, when the new 200 mile limit went into effect.

Pink salmon and shrimp will be more reasonable, too, for the pink salmon catch so far is up 58 per cent in Southeast Alaska than a year ago. Red salmon runs are poor, however. The canned shrimp pack is up 10 per cent but the small sizes are in smaller supply. Tuna prices will probably increase because albacore deliveries to canners are 30 per cent under a year ago.

Peaches, pears, plums, grapes and apples are the star fruit attractions right now. Red skin peaches, the last big volume variety, will be here this week, rather than after Labor Day in normal years. This popular variety, similar to the popular Red Haven, will be around for about three weeks only, so if you haven't gotten your fill of peaches, do it soon.

Michigan's Bartlett pear crop will soon be gone, too, for the crop was much smaller than a year ago. Outside skins are showing many blemishes and russeting this year, but interior quality, which is the most important, is good. The Western pear crop is good, however. Michigan's purple plum crop, though smaller in size than normal, is here in peak volume now.

Concord, Niagara, Delaware and several other grape varieties will be on markets in good supply by this week and until mid-September. Like all local crops this year, the season is two to three weeks early, so don't miss out.

McIntosh apples will also start in next week. Most of those that have already been in markets are starchy and immature. Look for Jonathans and Delicious to start by mid-September.

September is still peak time for fresh vegetables and supplies are larger than a year ago for cabbage, carrots, corn, onions, potatoes and peppers. Though there are fewer tomatoes than a year ago, this week and all of September will be peak volume time. Michigan is at its peak in celery production with sizes running larger than usual.

Susan Kay Schalton and Jack Robert Broome were married Saturday, Aug. 27, at Trinity Lutheran church, St. Joseph. The Rev. Paul A. Koehnke and the Rev. David, Marth of Christ Church Lutheran, Phoenix, Ariz., performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schalton of Grand Haven, formerly of St. Joseph. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Broome of Phoenix.

The bride wore an ivory sheer organza gown trimmed with Venice lace and designed with a chapel train. A halo of stephanotis and baby's breath held her illusion veil and she carried stephanotis, sony roses and baby's breath.

Miss Betsy Hahn was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Saoud and Miss Carolyn Day.

Serving his brother as best man was Michael C. Broome. Ushers were John Broome, brother of the groom, Scott Schalton, brother of the bride, Jeff Yircott and Bart Moore.

A reception was held at Point O'Woods Country club, Benton Harbor.

Following a wedding trip to Mackinac Island, the couple will reside at 4243 East Yow street, Phoenix, Ariz.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph high school and Michigan State university. She is employed as an account coordinator and media buyer with Bozell and Jacobs advertising agency in Phoenix. Her husband is a graduate of Paradise Valley high school, Paradise Valley, Ariz., and served in the United States Marine Corps. He is attending Phoenix college and is employed by Arizona Sand and Rock.

Parents of the bride of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roundy, route 1, Galien, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Heller Sr., 2105 Bakertown road, Buchanan.

The bride wore an A-line sheer organza gown designed with a chapel train and trimmed with Venice lace. A band headpiece held her fingertip matching lace trimmed veil and she carried silk daisies, stephanotis, sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Miss Suzanne Smith was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Kuntz, sister of the bride, Mrs. Brian Marshall, and Miss Susan Kooy. Miss Lori Roundy was junior bridesmaid. Lisa Heller, sister of the groom, was flower girl and Greg Hubbard, the ringbearer.

Steven Heller served his brother as best man and Thomas Kelley and Philip Welby were ushers.

A reception was held at Serbian church hall, South Bend, Ind.

The couple will reside at 705 West Roy street, Buchanan, following a wedding trip through northern Michigan.

The bride graduated from Galien high school and Twin City Beauty college, Benton Harbor. She is employed by the Richard Beauty Shoppe, Buchanan. The groom is a graduate of Galien high school and South Utah State college, Cedar City. He majored in cabinet making and is a self-employed carpenter.

VETERANS OF WORLD

Brevity

Announce Birth — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Aleumbrack of Portage announce the birth of a daughter, Shana Lynne, Aug. 25 at 3:08 p.m. at Bronson hospital, Kalamazoo. The infant weighed 7 pounds 4 ounces. Mrs. Aleumbrack is the former Minetta Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Peters, 1023 Union, Benton Harbor. The youngster's great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Card of Benton Harbor.

It is inevitable that cracks will develop between bathtub and the wall with use and age. Repair is important to help prevent water damage. Cracks also catch dirt and eventually look unappealing.

There are two types of waterproof crack fillers. Grout comes in powder form which must be mixed with water to proper consistency. Plastic sealer is ready to apply. Simply squeeze it from its tube. Whichever is used, always read directions beforehand.

Prevent Water Damage

Surface preparation is essential for a smooth, long-lasting job. Remove old filler and wash the area thoroughly with a sudsy brush or sponge. Rinse, and dry surface completely. Apply new filler. Wipe excess grout from wall and tub before it hardens.

Let it dry well prior to using the tub. Avoid dropping grout into a drain. Wash used bowl and putty knife promptly in warm suds. Work fast with plastic sealer as the compound dries quickly.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

She Quit School--Is Success

Dear Ann Landers: You'll never print this because it doesn't happen to fit in with your philosophy, but I hope you'll get some word to that 15-year-old. It just might help him. He signed himself, "Wasting The School's Money."

I am 19 and female. Two years ago I decided I, too, was wasting the school's money as well as my time. So I quit. Today I own a new car and have a very promising job as a secretary.

Dear Ann Landers: I asked you to rerun one of my favorite columns last year and you did it. I hate to impose on you again so soon but I ran across another column I would love to see reprinted. I found it in my brother's wallet. He was accidentally drowned ten days ago. The column was dated Nov. 23, 1968. My brother was 26 years old when he died and had been your reader since his teens.

ANN LANDERS

Mend a quarrel. Search out a forgotten friend. Dismiss a suspicious and replace it with trust. Write a letter to someone who misses you. Encourage a youth who has lost faith. Keep a promise. Forget an old grudge. Examine your demands on others and vow to reduce them. Fight for a principle. Express your gratitude. Overcome an old fear. Take two minutes to appreciate the beauty of nature. Tell someone you love him. Tell him again. And again. And again.

Plan Coloma Reunion

COLOMA — Graduating class of 1972 of Coloma high school will hold its five-year reunion at Tabor Farm Resort, 6028 River road, Sodus, Sunday, Sept. 11, beginning at 2 p.m. Dinner will be served at 5 p.m. Softball, golf and pool facilities will be available. Cost is $9 per person. Interested persons may contact Miss Leanne J. Nitz, 3074 West Marquette Woods road, Stevensville, 49127, for additional information.

Members of Fernwood Nature Center will exhibit the harvest of their gardens in juried competition at the Horticulture Fall Harvest Festival Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 3 and 4. Hours will be 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. Flowers, fruits and vegetables may be entered in both adult and junior divisions and awards will include three places and honorable mention. Also scheduled in conjunction with the weekend festival are tours of the Fernwood gardens each day at 3 p.m. and a hard-to-find plant sale at 1 p.m. daily. Other activities will include a display of bonsai from private collections and a display by the Fernwood chapter of the Indoor Light Gardening Society of America. Additional information on the harvest weekend may be obtained by contacting Fernwood Nature Center, Range Line road, south of Berrien Springs.

The House That Died

Well, we just got home from vacation only to discover our house had died. I knew something was fishy when we unlocked the door, walked into the kitchen, and the dog was at the kitchen table eating pizza out of an ashtray. No one in the house smokes. "Something is wrong," I said to my husband. "If you're referring to the brown lawn, we can reseed in the spring." I shook my head. "The buzzards over the garbage cans? The 84 gallons of milk in the garage? The jaundiced newspapers dotting the driveway?" "No, I just can't put my finger on it."

Things To Do

Dear Ann Landers: I asked you to rerun one of my favorite columns last year and you did it. I hate to impose on you again so soon but I ran across another column I would love to see reprinted. I found it in my brother's wallet. He was accidentally drowned ten days ago. The column was dated Nov. 23, 1968. My brother was 26 years old when he died and had been your reader since his teens.

Please, Ann, it would mean a lot to me. — Bob's Brother Dear Friend: Please accept my deep sympathy for your loss. Here is the column:

Dear Ann Landers: The other day I ran across a very old clipping. It was handwritten in small print. I found a magnifying glass and read it. It is one of the loveliest expressions of humanity I have ever seen. I hope you will consider it worthy of your column. (P.S. It gave no hint of the author.) On This Day —

HEALTH Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB— I am a 30-year-old female, weigh 126 and am 5 feet 8. I'm basically healthy and active. I can't gain more than three to five pounds at a time or keep them for very long. My appetite is poor most of the time, especially if I become upset. And I cannot eat fresh, raw vegetables and fruit. My mouth starts to itch and I break out in a rash on my face or arms. I also smoke about a pack of cigarettes a day.

What can I do to increase my appetite and gain weight? What can I eat in place of fresh, raw fruit and vegetables that would be comparable in nutritional value? How can I decrease my smoking?

I am beginning to feel sluggish upon arising in the morning and am getting from seven to eight hours of sleep. I have already been to my family physician for vitamins.

DEAR READER— Time may take care of your problem and you may wish you could have the old problem of not gaining weight back again. Your appetite might increase if you did quit smoking. Food might taste better too. Why don't you contact your nearest chapter of the American Heart Association or American Lung Association and see if they can tell you about local stop smoking clinics that you might join. A sincere desire to stop is often important in the success of such programs.

Fresh raw fruits and vegetables are seldom high calorie foods. If you want to gain weight these are not the foods you need to emphasize in your diet. Rather you want starches, fats and sweets, the high calorie foods — if you are sure you want to add fat to your torso. Muscles result from strength type exercises. Your emphasis on "fresh and raw" makes me wonder if you can tolerate canned or cooked fruits and vegetables. If so, they may be your next best substitute. In fact, you need to get bulk some place and you can get that from whole cereals or bran. You can get some potassium from milk and milk products although it is not as

Highway Toll Is Fourteen

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seven pedestrians, two of them hit-and-run victims, were among 14 persons killed on Michigan highways over the weekend, state police reported.

Jackson County deputies said Terrance Hull, 28, of Vandercook Lake was a hit-and-run victim in Summit Township on Saturday.

The other hit-and-run victim was identified as Jowakim Jones, 28, of Brighton, who was killed in his hometown early Saturday.

A 75-year-old man, Joseph Haggan, of Lincoln Park, was run down and killed by a motorcycle in his hometown Saturday.

Four other pedestrians were struck and killed by cars. They were:

—Richard Vallad, 46, of Pontiac, as he walked near his home Friday.

—Ramon Estelle, 4, of Mount Clemens, Saturday in Clinton Township, Macomb County.

—Frank Kucharek, 55, of Wayne, struck by a car in his hometown.

—Ray Delano, 17, of Muskegon, struck early Sunday in Laketon Township, Muskegon County.

Other weekend traffic victims were:

Verna Corrigan, 75, of Presque Isle, was killed Friday when the car she was in collided with another vehicle in Presque Isle County.

Scott Dorland, 19, of Fenton, died Saturday when the car he was driving ran off a road and struck a tree in Genesee County.

Gary Stephenson, 17, of Benzonia, was killed Saturday when his convertible flipped over three times in Homestead Township, Benzie County.

Steven Kay, 21, of New Baltimore, was killed Sunday in Chesterfield Township, Macomb County, when his car ran off a road, hit a bridge abutment and plunged into a river.

Donald Moore, 25, of Detroit, died Sunday, when his motorcycle ran off a road in Milford Village, Oakland County.

ROCK CONCERT DISBANDED: Watervliet police said some 200 to 250 persons attending a rock concert in city's Hayes park were ordered to leave the park Saturday evening, about 20 minutes after this picture was taken. Band is at left in picture. No arrests were made, although police said there was some minor gravel-throwing in response to police orders to clear the park. Lt. John Latsch said officers went to the concert site in response to a complaint about loud music from an unidentified person at 8 p.m. Latsch said 10 kegs of beer were confiscated because city ordinance prohibits alcoholic beverages in park. He said unauthorized tap was made into electric line to provide power for band, whose name was not reported. Brad Lamplot of Watervliet rented park for concert, according to police. Park was cleared by 10:15 p.m. (Cliff Stevens photo)

Arrests Follow Gas Theft Tip

By RALPH LUTZ

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The reported theft Saturday of gasoline from a parked truck led police to the arrests of two people and the seizure of property and cash allegedly stolen earlier in the day from four houses.

Patrolman James Kesterke of the Berrien Springs-Oronoko township police department said an anonymous caller reported at 1 p.m. that a man was siphoning gasoline from an Andrews university truck parked at the campus plant services department. Kesterke said a license plate number was provided, and registration of a car was traced.

Arrested were Scott L. Burgess, 18, Battle Creek, identified by police as a student at Andrews university, and a 16-year-old boy of Berrien Springs.

Kesterke said Burgess was booked for investigation of four counts of breaking and entering after the allegedly stolen property was found in his dormitory room. Burgess also was booked for investigation of a charge of larceny, in connection with the reported gasoline theft.

Kesterke said the boy was booked on four counts of breaking and entering and will be petitioned to juvenile court. He was turned over to his parents, Kesterke said.

According to Kesterke, property and cash worth between $400 and $500 were stolen in the burglaries. The officer said the burglaries occurred Saturday and none of the occupants had reported break-ins at the time the arrests were made. All were away from home, Kesterke said.

The alleged burglaries included a cassette player and $18 in cash from the Vernon Jewett home, 307 Lisa lane; photographic equipment and a watch from the Malcolm Russell home, 712 Dogwood drive; a set of stereo earphones from the V.H. Campbell home, 350 Westwood drive; and a television set from the Patrick Morrison home, 412 Hillcrest. The homes are all near the Andrews university campus, Kesterke said.

Highway Widening To Be Aired

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A proposal to widen U.S. 41 in Marquette will be discussed at a hearing held by the Senate Committee on Highways and Transportation at a meeting in Marquette Sept. 9. The meeting will be held at the Holiday Inn, beginning at 10 a.m.

Carterites Glean Pluses From Reagan's Canal Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration, stepping up its task-force drive for ratification of the new Panama Canal treaty, says opponent Ronald Reagan has raised debate to "a more productive level" by focusing on alternatives to the treaty now in force.

Carter predicts the Senate will ratify his treaty and says he will use a fireside chat to take his campaign for the pact to the American people. He said the consequences would be very severe if the treaty is rejected.

Announcement of the fireside chat came as Hamilton Jordan, the President's top political aide, mounted an all-out drive for ratification. Jordan put assistant Joe Aragon to work on the effort and enlisted help from virtually every sector.

Jordan heads a task force to win the 67 Senate votes needed for approval. Political and business leaders who have helped Carter efforts in the past are being summoned to briefings and dispatched back to states with wavering senators.

White House officials see Reagan's call for "alternative courses of action" that would "recognize the aspirations of the Panamanian people" as an end to his demand that the United States' present treaty with Panama be maintained intact.

"Even Gov. Reagan is saying the status quo is not a real alternative," one administration official said Sunday. "That leaves the question: Are we better off ratifying our new treaty or tearing up the past 13 years of negotiating and starting the process anew?"

The official, who declined to be identified, said he was reporting the views of Carter and his top foreign policy advisers.

"Reagan has elevated the debate to a higher and more productive level," the official said. "Now we'll deliberate alternatives to the terms in the treaty. It won't be a matter of dreams, like keeping the status quo, versus reality, which says we can't."

Actually, there are two new agreements, one to yield control of the canal in the year 2000, and the other to guarantee the permanent neutrality of the waterway along with the right of the United States to keep it open and secure.

The agreements are to be signed here Sept. 7, before the Senate takes up the pact.

Carter's speechwriters have a fireside speech ready for whenever the President wants it. Barry Jagoda, Carter's media and public affairs adviser, said arrangements for the presidential address have not been completed.

"It will not be this week or next," Jagoda said.

The address is expected to be broadcast nationally. Each network has yet to decide if it will carry the speech and whether it will be on radio or television or both.

The President disclosed plans for the chat to editors and broadcast news directors who interviewed him at the White House. The interview was made public Saturday.

The fireside chat is designed to woo constituents of senators who haven't made up their minds.

Most public opinion polls reflect voter opposition to the treaty. The White House is waiting for a poll of its own to use in its efforts.

The President told the editors and news directors he has talked to 50 or 60 senators since negotiators reached agreement on the terms of the treaty earlier this month.

Many senators who previously opposed any new treaty "have now changed their minds, and they will vote for the treaty because they have been pleasantly surprised at the terms," Carter said.

"The expectation of Latin American people that we are going to have a resolution of this (Panama) question has built up hopes of new friendship, new trade opportunities and a new sense of commonality and equality of stature between their governments and our government," the President said.

Time Is Now The Enemy For Navy Mothball Fleet

By CARL D'ORIO
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — As battleships and cruisers sink slowly into obsolescence, the keepers of the Navy's mothball fleet fight the rust, the barnacles and a slow slide into history.

From aircraft carriers to barges, the 422 combat craft of the Inactive Fleet — as it is known, officially — are in storage at four locations around the country.

The fleet, which is being evaluated for its efficiency, is kept around for emergencies.

The facility here, part of a larger U.S. Naval Yard, has about 20 carriers, battleships, destroyers and cruisers, plus an equal number of barges and other small craft tied up in berths on the Delaware River.

John Price, a 25-year Navy veteran and one of 55 civilian employees who work at the facility with 26 naval personnel, disagrees with those who say that the $13 million annual budget for the fleet is a waste of money.

"If we hadn't given them those ships, where would Great Britain have been in 1939?" he said. A fleet of 50 mothballed U.S. ships was made combat ready and used by Britain in World War II.

There have been many other instances of similar vessel resurrections. As recently as the Vietnam War, 50 ships were taken out of mothballs.

But the cost of reactivation is high, and the fleet gets more and more obsolete. The ships lack up-to-date electronics and missile capability, mainstays of the modern fleet.

Price revels in his role as chief historian and salty dog among his co-workers. The mothballed relics hold a wealth of memories for him: his last two naval tours were on the Northampton and the Springfield, two cruisers at the yard.

The reminders that nothing is forever are all around, and Price's recollections include many "lasts." He talks about the last of the all-gun heavy cruisers, the Newport News, or the last of the hospital ships, the Sanctuary, also docked here.

Just how long the Philadelphia facility — or any of the other "boneyards" — will be around is uncertain.

"Everybody said they'd never close Brooklyn. Well, they closed Brooklyn, didn't they?" said Price. The naval general repair facility at Brooklyn, N.Y., closed in 1965.

Bremerton, Wash., is the largest of the shipyards handling the inactive ships. Other portions of the reserve fleet are located in Portsmouth, Va., and Pearl Harbor.

Last December, a reserve yard on Mare Island in California was shut down. The year before, another was closed in Orange, Tex.

Workers wonder if the Philadelphia yard will be next. There are regular rumors here of a possible closing.

"Before the close of every fiscal year it goes around like clockwork," said Denis O'Hare, production controller at the yard here.

Air Force Opens Door To Women

WILLIAMS AIR FORCE BASE, Ariz. (AP) — Ten pioneering women cadets are about to become jet jockeys. And more women prospects are waiting in the wings.

Although they won't be at the controls of fighting aircraft, the 10, who volunteered a year ago when the jet training first opened up, are expected to get military assignments in transport and weather in Sept. 2.

A Slipped Disc Can Be A Painful "Slip-Up"

Intervertebral disc. What a tongue-twister of a name for a shock absorber!

"Unfortunately, tongue-twisting isn't the only twist involved with this little disc," explains Dr. Ackerman, D. C., of the Ackerman chiropractic Center. Anyone who does a lot of lifting, with the consequent twist and bending, is a prime candidate for disc injury.

Dr. Vince Ackerman takes the spinal disc for granted.

"Its center contains a jelly-like substance that is enclosed by a tough fibrous cartilage," the good Doctor continues. "This is in turn encased in the ligaments which hold the vertebrae together. The discs cushion the vertebrae and act as a shock absorber, keeping the vertebrae from grinding together as we bounce, twist, and bend through life. Equally important the discs help to form the nerve opening between the vertebrae."

If these nerves should become pinched nerve impulses from the brain will be short circuited.

"Proper functioning of these nerves is essential to every phase of your life," warns Dr. Ackerman. "When they are pinched by misaligned vertebrae or a slipped disc, any number of things can go wrong. Antibodies cannot get through the blood to fight infection, or your stomach may tell you to eat immediately after a meal."

If the back is weak, the spine cannot endure the heavy abuse which it might otherwise withstand.

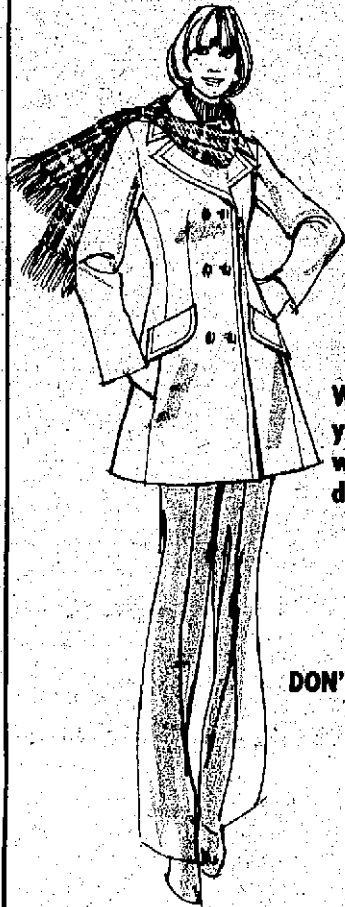

Office workers, truck drivers, and others who maintain a prolonged sitting position are prone to disc injury because their back muscles may become weak and flabby from disuse.

To strengthen the back muscles that hold the spine and discs in place, proper exercise is a must.

"The Doctor of Chiropractic is well qualified to show you a series of exercises designed to help keep your back in shape," concludes Dr. Ackerman. "While his specialized knowledge in treating nerve, muscle, and bone disorders is especially suited to slipped disc cases, he would rather help prevent the need for such treatment."

Dr. Ackerman maintains Chiropractic offices at 3818 Red Arrow Hwy., St. Joseph (Telephone 429-1200).

Renaissance Center Fatal Plunge Probed

DETROIT (AP) — Officials are investigating the death of a New Jersey man who plummeted 40 stories to his death over the weekend at the high-rise hotel in Detroit's new Renaissance Center. James Cunningham, 20, of Bound Brook, N.J., fell from the 39th floor just after mid-night Sunday as he attempted to escape an elevator stuck between floors at the Plaza Hotel, police said.

Police said Cunningham attempted to leap from the car to the 39th floor, a drop of five to six feet. He landed on the edge of the floor, but lost his balance and plunged down the elevator shaft. Three companions remained in the elevator. Plaza officials refused to say if safeguards were built into the elevator system to prevent doors from being opened or how often elevators become stalled between floors. A crew from the Otis Elevator Co. is investigating, said Ken Kitchen, a Plaza spokesman. It was the first death at the hotel since it opened five months ago.

IMPROVEMENT CAN BE COSTLY

You can make a million mistakes trying to sell your own home. And one of them is making the wrong improvements. Many times, an expensive addition or repair can be the kind of thing that'll cost you far more than you get back.

True, the house should present a favorable appearance — mowed lawn, trimmed shrubs, and no obvious indications of neglect, but it's rare when a large financial undertaking will bring more than its cost in the final selling price.

There is always the financial risk of miscalculation too. Home repair costs frequently end up a lot higher than originally anticipated. You may end up with a faster sale and less inconvenience if you lower the selling price an equivalent amount.

Instead of guessing as to how much, if any, repair work to undertake, see a Realtor. He can tell you what to do to make your home more salable. And what not to do so you won't lose money.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of Real Estate, please phone or drop in at HERRIEN REAL ESTATE SERVICE, 1014 Main St., St. Joseph. Phone 863-1584. We're here to help!

Berrien CETA Is Seeking Winter Project Proposals

The Berrien county Comprehensive Employment and Training (CETA) office is seeking proposals for special projects to employ 284 people through the winter months. Most of the current special projects — public service tasks accomplished within a year — are ending, according to Sue Hutchings, CETA public relations coordinator. New projects will start between Nov. 1 of this year and March 1, 1978. Governmental, educational, community development or non-profit agencies engaged in public services can submit special project applications. Proposals must be submitted to the CETA office, 145 West Main street, Benton Harbor, by 5 p.m. Sept. 18.

Special CETA projects include beautification, conservation, crime prevention, child care, housing or neighborhood improvements that can't be accomplished except with CETA funds. The 284 workers will be paid by a portion of CETA's $6 million funding package.

Two People Hospitalized After Traffic Accidents

Two people were hospitalized after traffic accidents over the weekend.

Michael O. Jones, 26, of 2927 Glenford road, Lincoln township, was reported in "good" condition today in Memorial hospital after he was injured in a one car accident Sunday night.

Berrien Deputy Sheriff Tom Page reported Jones was injured at 11 p.m. when the auto he was driving south on Washington avenue, Lincoln township, struck a tree north of Glenford road.

Page said Jones was to be ticketed for reckless driving.

A three-year-old Benton township girl was reported in "fairly good" condition today at Mercy hospital after she was struck by an auto in Benton Harbor Friday.

Benton Harbor Patrolman Greg Platts said Shunda Stevenson, 3, of 1741 Roberts avenue, was injured about 9:15 a.m. after getting out of a parked auto on Thresher avenue, east of South Seely street. She ran into the path of an oncoming car, witnesses said. Platts said no tickets were issued to the driver, Diann Valentine, 20, of 132 Oden street, Benton Harbor.

Benton township police reported Annette Hiler, 10, Arent road, Bainbridge township, was treated and released at Mercy hospital and released after a collision involving three vehicles Sunday.

Sgt. Rick Davis said Annette was a passenger in an auto driven by Mary Jane Hiler, 31, of the same address, when the car was involved in a collision with a light truck pulling a car at the intersection of Empire avenue and Benton Center road.

According to Davis, David Gonsler, 22, of 2016 Meadowbrook road, Benton township, was driving the truck which was towing a car with Mark E. Will, 20, of 327 Lewis street, Watervliet, at the wheel.

No tickets were issued after the 5:48 p.m. accident, Davis said.

Benton township police said a 62-year-old Hartford woman was treated and released at Mercy hospital after complaining of back pain resulting from a two-car accident Sunday night.

Patrolman Gary Ruhl said Eva Johnson, was injured at 9 p.m. while riding in an auto driven by Lonnie J. Johnson, 28, of 2070 Red Arrow highway, Benton township.

According to Ruhl, the Johnson car, and an auto driven by Booker T. Washington, 66, of 159 East Britain avenue, Benton Harbor, collided at the intersection of Wells avenue and Territorial road. Ruhl said neither motorist was ticketed.

STATE TAKEOVER PLAN SUSPECTED

'Blues' Charge Smear Campaign

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State regulators are using a mudslinging campaign in an attempt to take over Blue Cross-Blue Shield, says the president of the largest medical insurer in Michigan.

Blues president John C. McCabe said today that state Insurance Commissioner Thomas C. Jones "is determined to discredit our plan with the public. The rhetoric and political actions coming out of the commissioner's office are designed to raise questions that do not stand examination in the light of day. Throw enough mud and some will stick."

McCabe said the insurance commissioner's allegations against the medical insurer are designed to "make his ultimate takeover of the Blues more palatable to a public that is otherwise increasingly critical of government intervention."

The insurance bureau frequently has slashed rate increase requests from Blue Cross-Blue Shield and has said the medical insurer should try harder to control costs. Blue Cross-Blue Shield was criticized for dismissing one of the insurance commissioner's appointments to the board, Charles Chomet, who was designated a consumer representative.

The medical insurer, an independent non-profit organization, needs state approval before it can raise rates.

In a speech at the East Lansing Rotary Club, McCabe also said:

—The state Insurance Bureau is "soft on commercial insurance companies. Could it be that the regulatory agency is not so interested in defending the public's interest as it is in being tough only in situations guaranteeing the greatest political mileage?"

—Uneven, politically-inspired regulation has and will "water down" cost containment in health care in Michigan.

The state Insurance Bureau uses Blue Cross-Blue Shield as "the whipping boy for (insurance) commissioners who come and go."

Niles Police Pick Pair Off Of Bus

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NILES — A Chicago pair wanted by police in connection with a murder in that city's southwest side last night were arrested by Niles city police early this morning.

Lodged in the Niles city jail were a pair identified as George Jones, 39, and Gloria Hicks, 28, Chicago police said this morning that Jones is wanted on an open murder charge and the woman on a charge of aiding a fugitive.

Niles policemen Sgt. Larry Brock and Patrolman John Norvell said they took the two into custody without incident after stopping a bus on US-31 south about 5:30 a.m. today.

Police said they were notified by the Berrien county sheriff's department that Chicago police suspected the two might be on the bus.

Chicago police said they are seeking the couple in connection with the shooting death of Ricky Johnson, a 24-year-old Chicago man. Johnson was shot several times with a handgun after an argument over a woman broke out on a street in Chicago shortly before midnight.

Niles police said the two are being held for Chicago authorities.

Plot To Steal Elvis Reported

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Four men were arrested for investigation of attempted burglary today near the cemetery where Elvis Presley is entombed. A newspaper said they were carrying explosives and apparently wanted to steal the rock 'n' roll singer's body.

Deputy Police Chief John Molnar declined to comment on the report in the Memphis Commercial Appeal that the men carried explosives and were planning to blow a hole in the mausoleum where Presley is buried. The newspaper said the quantity of explosives appeared insufficient to carry out the job.

"All we can give you at this time," said Molnar, "is that four parties were arrested at about 12:21 a.m. on Elvis Presley Boulevard near the Forest Hills Cemetery. All I can say is for attempted burglary. They are under investigation by the homicide squad."

Molnar said that as far as he knew, no extortion threats had been made. He would not explain why the homicide squad was given the case.

Asked whether the arrests had to do with Presley's grave, Molnar said, "Apparently so. It is in connection with the cemetery."

Presley, who was 42, was entombed Aug. 18 in a mausoleum at the suburban Memphis cemetery, two days after his death at his home, Graceland Mansion.

Molnar told a radio station that three men were arrested in a car outside the cemetery gates and that the fourth was arrested at the Baptist Hospital emergency room where he had gone to have a twisted ankle treated. He said the man was injured while attempting to elude police.

Niles Man Booked On Four Charges

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NILES — A Niles man was booked on four charges here Saturday night in connection with a traffic accident and an alleged attempt to obtain drugs from two area hospitals, according to state police at the Niles post.

Officers said Gerald DeLong, 23, 1309 Fairfield drive, was booked at Niles city jail on charges of attempting to obtain drugs under false pretenses, impersonating a police officer, driving while under the influence of drugs and violating a restricted driver's license.

Police said the arrest was made after a motorist ran into a mailbox and then into a gas pump at the Pacer Service station on M-51 just north of Niles about 9 p.m. Saturday.

The gas pump caught fire and was doused by Niles township firemen called to the scene, police said.

Police said they seized a South Bend, Ind., special policeman's badge from the motorist.

Following the accident, police said they learned of attempts by a man who claimed to be a policeman to obtain drugs from Lee Memorial hospital, Dowagiac, and Unity hospital, Buchanan.

Police said the arrested man was released from Pawating hospital in Niles following treatment and was released from city jail Sunday on his own recognizance pending arraignment in Niles Fifth district court on the charges.

Porno House Bomb Defused In Pontiac

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Police, alerted by janitor who discovered a "licking package" under a seat, defused a homemade bomb with just 10 minutes to spare at a controversial, pornographic movie house.

The bomb — containing an unidentified explosive, a clock and a battery — was discovered at about 2 a.m. Sunday in a brown paper bag after all patrons had left the Campus Theater, manager Fred Phillips said.

Police said they did not know when the bomb was left, but speculated that it was placed under the center-aisle seat shortly before the theater closed.

Pontiac's City Commission has repeatedly denied the Campus Theater a license and Phillips has been arrested three times on pornography charges since it opened under new management in June.

A fire early that month caused it to close for two weeks for some $18,000 worth of repairs. The theater is keeping its doors open under terms of a federal court injunction.

Desert Conference Starting

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — A United Nations conference opens today to generate action to combat the alarming spread of deserts around the globe and to preserve the world's vanishing supply of rich productive lands. Mustafa K. Tolba, secretary-general of the conference, says man and not dramatic climatic changes over the centuries is responsible for the current crisis of "desertification."

A draft plan to be discussed recommends setting up greenbelts in African areas ravaged by men and livestock and monitoring projects in arid and semi-arid areas of South America and southwest Asia.

Wounded Officer Dies

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — A Dearborn police officer wounded in the head during a gun battle last Wednesday is dead. Police said 29-year-old Norbert Szyguel was shot in the left eye during a shootout in a parking lot at an apartment building. He died Saturday of massive brain damage. Authorities have charged 53-year-old Mahsin Hussin of Detroit with four counts of assault with intent to commit murder for allegedly firing at five Dearborn police officers. Police said Hussin also would be charged with the death of Szyguel. Police said the officers had responded to a call about a "man with a gun" in a bar. The shooting occurred across the street from the bar.

SUNFLOWER FIELD: This two-acre field of sunflowers along Red Arrow highway west of Hartford is an eye-catching melange of greens and brilliant yellows. Standing in field is Alvin Davis, 16, who said he expects to harvest sunflowers in three to four weeks. Sunflower seeds will be sold as birdseed, he said. It is his first try at raising sunflowers for profit, he said. Field is located on farm of his parents, Mr.

and Mrs. Melvin Davis Sr. Young Davis has invested about $260 in crop, including rental of land from his father. He hopes to make $200 profit in birdseed sales, he said. (Adolph Hann color photo)

Now's The Best Time To Start Lawn

ALLEGAN — "Mid-August to mid-September is the best time to establish a new lawn in Michigan," according to George Mansell, Allegan county extension director.

"You can also seed a new lawn in the spring, but weeds are likely to be more of a problem then. You can seed a new lawn any time during the spring, summer or fall," he adds.

Follow these tips for success:

Says U.S. Tried To Buy Greenland

OPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — The historian to the Danish royal court says in a new book that his government turned down an attempt by the United States in 1946 to buy Greenland.

Professor Tage Kaarsted based his 600-page history of Danish political affairs during the period between 1929 and 1953 on public records and previously secret government files.

— Improve your soil if necessary. Add two to three inches of peat or sand to a heavy clay soil and one to two inches each of peat and clay soil to sand. Mix the added materials with the existing soil to a depth of six inches.

— Have a soil test run. Your county Cooperative Extension Service office can help you arrange for the test and interpret the results.

— Till the soil, removing rocks, building debris and other objects. Grade it, if necessary, to correct high or low spots and to make the ground slope gently away from the home and other buildings. Eliminate steep slopes whenever possible; they are difficult to establish and maintain. The soil line, before sodding or seeding should be one and a half to two inches below sidewalk, curb or driveway grade level. If the soil is not lower than the concrete, sod or thatch will soon build up and overhang sidewalks, etc.

— Follow the recommendations of your soil test for lime and fertilizer. Work them into the top two or three inches of soil.

— Roll the seedbed to firm it, then rake the surface to provide a loose, smooth seedbed.

— Seed the lawn. Use 1 to 2 pounds of bluegrass per 1,000 square feet. A combination of three or four improved bluegrasses plus one-third creeping red or chewing fescue is recommended. Use a mechanical seeder to insure seed is spread evenly. For best results, divide the recommended quantity of seed for the area into two equal parts and seed twice, first across the area from east to west, then from north to south. Turfgrass seed is very lightweight, so seed on a calm day. Mixing seed with Milogranite or a similar material will help extend the seed for more even distribution.

— Rake the seed lightly into the top one-fourth inch of the seedbed. Do not bury the seed — it needs light to germinate. After raking, roll to firm the soil.

— Mulch with 60 to 80 pounds of straw for every 1,000 square feet of lawn. Mulch keeps the soil moist so the seed germinates quickly. If you don't mulch, you may have to water several times a day.

— Water daily for three to four weeks. To prevent puddling and erosion, water lightly. This daily irrigation is probably the most important step in establishing a lawn. Mansell points out, "even a few hours of drought can kill young grass seedlings."

— When the grass is 1½ to 2½ inches tall, remove about half the mulch and apply one-half pound of nitrogen for every 1,000 square feet. Water the fertilizer into the soil to prevent its burning the foliage.

— Remove the rest of the mulch when grass is well established and begin mowing the new turf when the grass is 2½ to 3 inches tall. Mow to a height of 1½ to 2 inches.

— To avoid damaging the tender grass seedlings, hold off on broadleaf weed control with chemicals until the grass is well established. This is usually at least five to six weeks after the first grass emerges. Or you may wait until spring, if the weeds are not too thick. Most broadleaf weeds do not germinate in the fall.

Skateboard Contest Due

COLOMA — A skateboard contest for area young people will be held Saturday, Sept. 3, starting at 9 a.m. at the Coloma Hilltop shopping center parking lot here.

Sponsored by Coloma Jaycees in cooperation with the Hilltop center, competition will be held in two events — freestyle and slalom — for different age groups. Age groups are 9 and under; 10 to 12; 13 to 16; and 17 and over.

Winners in each group will win the right to compete in the Michigan Jaycee Skateboard Championships to be held Sept. 27 at the Silver Dome in Pontiac.

According to August Pupedis Jr., Coloma Jaycee event chairman, all contestants must register in advance and have a signed parental release. Registration forms are now available at the Coloma Hilltop shopping center and must be returned by Friday, Sept. 2. Entry fee is $1. Spectators will also be charged $1.

Pupedis said winners will be taken to Pontiac at Jaycees' expense and the money raised in the skateboard event will go to help offset those costs.

Pupedis said all skateboards will be inspected for defects before the start of competition. Also, all contestants will be required to wear helmets, elbow and kneepads and rubber-soled shoes. Entrants with defective boards or without proper safety equipment will not be allowed to compete, he said.

CONSTRUCTION UNDERWAY NEAR DETROIT

Cyclists Tour $5.9 Million Bikeway

A 34-mile-long asphalt and concrete ribbon along I-275 in southeast Michigan should be one of the state's most popular bikeways when it opens officially next year to link busy communities with quiet parks and farms in three counties, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

This trail runs across mostly flat land from Novi in southern Oakland County to intersect with I-75 five miles north of Monroe in Monroe County. While much of the pathway is complete, the entire route will not be ready for bikers until next summer.

The $5.9 million bikeway has exit and entrance points at nearly every I-275 overpass and interchange, offering a chance to explore nearby towns or ride along little-traveled country roads past weather-worn farms dotting table-flat fields.

The route passes through part of one well-known Detroit-area park and is within easy cycling distance of another. Two state rest areas being built along the freeway also will be open to cyclists. No campgrounds are en route but bikers are always close to a good selection of restaurants and motels.

Cyclists starting at the path's northern end off Meadowbrook Road need travel only three miles before their first side trip. By exiting west at Eight Mile Road, bikers can explore historic Northville which celebrates its 150th anniversary this year.

Take Eight Mile Road back to the bikeway and head south past numerous small tool factories. Bikers leave I-275 and turn west along the M-14 freeway to Mid-

By taking southbound Northville Road from eastbound I-275, cyclists can explore the quiet city of Plymouth. Settled in the early 1800s, its downtown retains a unique, small-town atmosphere barely 20 miles from Detroit. Bikers might want to pedal past the city park to sample a frosty ice cream cone from Cloverdale Farm Dairy, a city fixture since 1932.

From Plymouth, cyclists can retrace to Rouge Park and re-enter I-275 past Haggerty Road to parallel the freeway's northbound lanes. One of two state rest areas on the freeway is two miles south of Ford Road and picnic and restroom facilities will be available.

The path switches to the southbound side at Van Buren Road four miles south of the rest area, passing sprawling apartment complexes separated by heavily wooded maple groves along the way.

The bikeway leaves the freeway just north of the I-94 interchange and rejoins I-275 two miles later at North Line Road.

For the next several miles, the sky sounds with the roar of gleaming commercial jet aircraft swooping low for landings at nearby Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

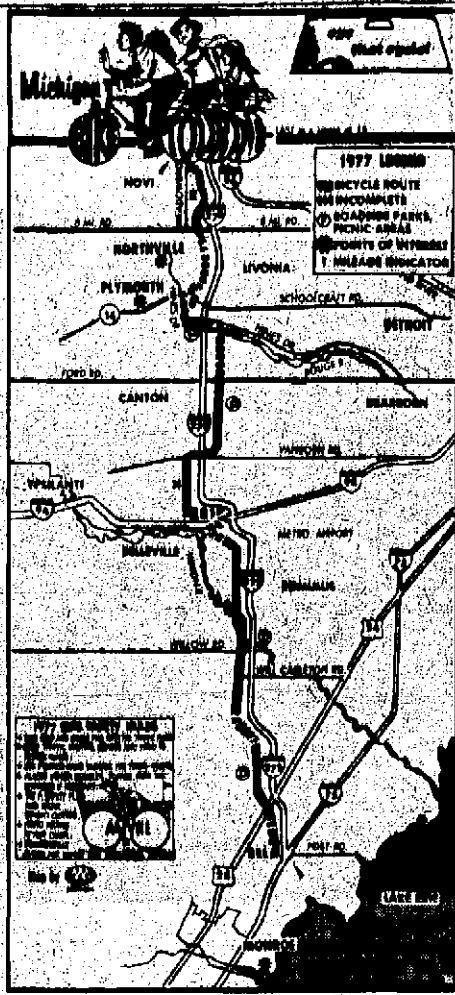

Five miles below the airport, the bikeway crosses the 127-mile-long Huron River via a biker's bridge. Then it's just two miles to Willow Road, where cyclists can exit and pedal a mile east to Willow Metropark.

One of 10 such parks ringing Metropolitan Detroit, the 1,600-acre facility includes an Olympic-sized swimming pool, scenic drives and picnic areas where cyclists can rest or picnic among trees shading the river.

And lush farm fields two miles south of Willow Road, the bikeway enters Monroe County at Will Carleton Road, named for Michigan's official poet laureate.

The road's second state rest area is three miles south of the county line. From the rest area, cyclists can see the 800-foot-tall twin smokestacks of the Detroit Edison Company's giant Monroe power plant. It is the largest coal-fired electrical generator in the world. Also nearby is the construction site of the Enrico Fermi II nuclear power plant along Lake Erie's shoreline.

From the rest area, it's a four-mile ride to Post Road and the trail's terminus, past rich farmland ringed in summer by Queen Anne's Lace and other wildflowers.

Cyclists should pace themselves according to ability. The League of American Wheelmen estimates the average cyclist can cover 25 to 30 miles a day with ease. A card and pamphlet containing bicycle safety tips are available free at all Automobile Club of Michigan offices.

DOCTORS SAY that when we worry, hurry and scurry through the working day, our hearing and eyesight might suffer. Those Lows: In Torredembarra, Spain: "Lustling on the benches is illegal." Can you remember when the only way a pregnancy was described was as "She's in a family way"? The average Virginian (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) does not approve of, nor care for, outward demonstrations of affection. Those Lows: Learning against a public building in Clinton County, Ohio, is against the law. A health expert says you can relieve tension by taking a few deep breaths. This relaxes the muscles of the chest that contract when you feel tense. When feeling blue, try to look at something blue to cheer you up. Color scientists say this color helps to make people happier.

HOME DECOR TIP: Color stylists say that rooms facing south or west should be painted in cool colors such as blue or green; rooms facing north should be decorated in warmer hues, such as members of the red, orange or yellow families. Bar-Snooping at Duros, San Francisco: Soak lemon slices in rum before adding them to mixed drinks...

Famous Last Words: "Stop worrying — that police car isn't after us." Beauty Hint: Wash your face in warm water five times daily with a non-alkaline soap and use as little make-up as possible. This will allow your skin to "breathe." Recommended: A new hangover cure — a pint of very warm water with a teaspoon of bicarbonate of soda dissolved in it.

KITCHEN-SNOOPING: To enjoy fried fish without the odor, soak fish in lemon juice for about 20 to 25 minutes, roll in meal, then fry in deep fat (Rene Pujol, NYC). Dice one or two cored but unpeeled Washington Delicious apples into your next ham or tuna salad — the crunchy apple bits add flavor as well as texture (Gaslight Club). For an easy-to-dish shortcake, toast buttered pound cake and top with strawberries and whipped cream (Mrs. B's Kitchen).

SMATTERING OF SIGNS: The Ruler of Taurus is Venus, planet of love and beauty; their lucky day is Friday, their lucky number is six (6).

Instant Riches, Happiness Don't Go Hand-In-Hand

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — If you become an overnight millionaire by winning a lottery, you may jump for joy, but researchers believe you may also find it hard to rise and shine for breakfast.

That is the conclusion of a Northwestern University study on happiness, one of several presented at the American Psychological Association's 85th annual meeting here Sunday.

The study, by graduate student Dan Coates and two professors, focused on three groups: winners of the Illinois state lottery, who had suddenly come into between $50,000 and $1 million; accident victims who were nearly or totally paralyzed; and a "control group" of people who led everyday lives.

The theory being tested was that the lottery winners would find simple activities — eating breakfast or talking with friends — less pleasant by comparison with their recent great luck. The accident victims were expected to find more pleasure in these simple joys than the control group because of the tragedy coloring the rest of their lives.

Coates reported that the lottery subjects felt good about winning and about the changes it made in their lives. But, he added, "Lottery winners were not happier than controls in general and took less pleasure on the average than controls in a variety of ordinary events."

Accident victims, he said, "are less happy than controls in general, and tend also to take less pleasure in ordinary events."

This did not really contradict the theory that happiness is relative, though, said Coates: It was merely that the paraplegics compared the present state of affairs with their lives before being injured.

Another researcher, Dr. Margaret Gatz of the University of Maryland, reported on a group of workers trained to help poor people in a low-income urban area. The workers expressed more dissatisfaction with their lives than the down-and-out residents they were assisting. She labeled this "the Richard Cory Syndrome," after the elegant gentleman in a poem by Edward Arlington Robinson. Richard Cory "glittered when he walked" and was envied by all the townspeople. But one summer night Richard Cory went home and put a bullet through his head.

In one test, the workers and the people they were helping were asked how well they were coping in their everyday lives. In the second test, they were asked to assess their general satisfaction with life.

"What interested us was that it was the community workers — successful, actively involved individuals who score high on coping ability — who expressed the most dissatisfaction," said Dr. Gatz.

She said this was contrary to previous findings about the relationship of competence to happiness.

ENJOY THE DAY

Family FOODS

The "People's Stores" salute the people on Labor Day. On this special day set aside to honor the worker, we say "Thank You" to all Americans who have made this nation great through their interest and hard work. It takes a combination of many skills and talents to make America "tick", therefore, every job is important and in every job there is the dignity that goes with performing it well.
So relax and enjoy the holiday. We will be closed on Labor Day so that we can all enjoy the day with our Family and Friends.

JOHN P. ROCHE
A Word Edgewise

I regret this late entrance to the great looting debate, but I have been off to the law library checking the statute of limitations. Reassured, I can now divulge the dreadful truth: John P. Roche, A.B., A.M., Ph.D., D. Litt., Phi Beta Kappa, is an undicted looter, emeritus. As you can imagine, the debate over events during the New York blackout has unsettled me. Reading the columns of my conservative brethren, I shuddered: clearly, I was a desecrator of the Judeo-Christian tradition and the values of our Republic; a wicked person who had cunningly evaded the electric chair.

Then I read the permissive high theorists. In short, I learned I wasn't guilty — everybody was. This absolution lifted the burden from my soul momentarily, but then the inner voice of cold conscience said, "Johnny, that's a crock. You loved that fur-lined flight jacket even though you knew it had been 'liberated' from an Air Force warehouse."

It all began, innocently enough. In 1945 I was sitting in the NCO club at an Air Transport Command base playing poker when someone rushed in to announce that one of the warehouses was on fire. By private arrangement with the motor pool sergeant, I had my own jeep parked outside. Not because I was lazy but rather because my colonel, a grand guy, would get rockets in the middle of the night from Biak, Guam and our other charming resorts demanding the instant shipment of a chaplain, two quartermaster officers, and five navigators. He would call me, say "ship those — s out," confident they would be on the morning plane and eventually he would get his star. (He did.)

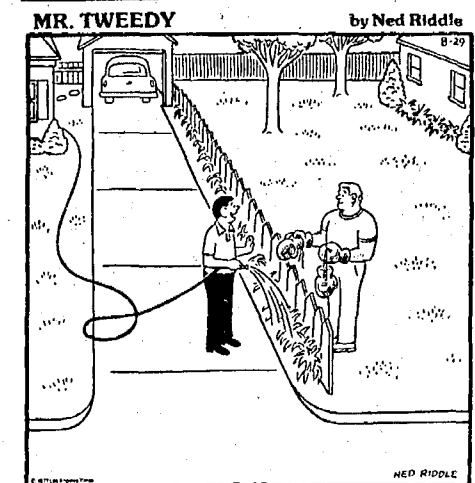

But I digress. My friends of the non-commissioned baronage agreed we should finish the hand and then go down to the depot and take a look at the fire.

Latin Rights Gains Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are signs of progress toward human rights in four South American countries, but there is still a long way to go, says a State Department official.

"The governments are responding to the pressures of their own people," Assistant Secretary of State Terence Todman told reporters.

He recently returned from a 10-day trip to Chile, Argentina, Paraguay and Uruguay.

"SOME OTHER TIME, BURKHART. THIS IS 'BE KIND TO YOUR NEIGHBOR WEEK.'"

More U.S.-China Meetings Due

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance is telling President Carter that Chinese leaders are confident, secure in their power and more relaxed than past visitors have found them, says a knowledgeable administration official.

"What comes back from China reinforces the feeling we had at the outset — that this is a very propitious time for renewed contact at the highest level," said the official. But he said there are no plans for Carter to follow Vance to Peking in the near future.

The informant, gave an assessment of Vance's report to Carter late Sunday on his four-day visit to Peking last week.

Full diplomatic recognition of Peking's Communist government remains at the end of "a long road," the source said.

"It's an ultimate goal," the official said, "but results may not be immediately apparent."

In a statement issued by the White House, Vance and the President said they anticipated "additional constructive meetings ... (with the Chinese) in the weeks and months ahead."

The statement gave no hint of when these meetings will be or which officials will participate. It said Carter and Vance found the secretary's trip "a good beginning" toward recognizing Peking, but added that "it would be premature ... to draw firm conclusions."

Vance's briefing for the President in the Cabinet Room at the White House was attended by Vice President Walter F. Mondale, Secretary of Defense Harold Brown and Zbigniew Brzezinski, the President's national security assistant.

In addition to U.S. relations with China and Japan, they spent three hours talking about Southern Africa, the Middle East, Carter's new Panama Canal treaty, U.S.-Soviet strategic arms limitation talks and negotiations for a nuclear test ban.

The administration official declined to provide details on those discussions.

But the official said of Vance's report on China:

"The Peking leadership is confident and it projects a feeling of security, indeed of a situation in general which one could describe as more relaxed than what people who have been there in the past have sensed."

The informant said Vance's trip gave him "an opportunity to explain to the Chinese our policies and courses of action and analyses of a number of very important areas of the world."

"From those discussions, the Chinese obtained a much clearer understanding, and in some specific cases, I think the results of the discussions left them with an increased degree of assurance to the extent they are interested in our ability, both in terms of capability and of will, to act decisively around the world in global matters."

MONEY MAKER: This snack stand and soda bar located inside the walls of Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson is one of the ways Jaycees earn money for their projects. Earlier this year, the Jaycees donated a motorized mini-ambulance worth some $1,900 to the prison infirmary. The SMP Jaycees have about 135 members, and recently won the Howard Memorial Award as the best institutional chapter in the U.S. (AP Wirephoto)

Jaycees Thriving In Prison

By JOHN PIPER

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Paul D. Duffy Jr. and Arthur Leggett head up what may be the nation's most unusual Jaycee chapter. It operates inside the world's largest walled prison. The Southern Michigan Prison chapter recently won the Howard Memorial Award as the best institutional chapter in the U.S.

"I came in here on a big bit (prison sentence): 35 to 50 years," Duffy said. "I knew I'd be spending at least 13 years inside the walls. That's a long time. I asked myself what I was going to do. I didn't want to just waste my time."

A friend told him about the Jaycees, and the more Duffy got involved the more motivated he became. "I liked what the Jaycees were saying," he explained. "And I thought our chapter could be as good as those on the outside."

Duffy says he lives, eats and sleeps Jaycees, devoting almost every waking hour to it. "I've experienced a growth and maturing I can see," he said. "I see myself differently than I did three years ago. With the Jaycees, I feel part of a really large family."

Leggett's story is similar. He arrived at the prison serving a 15-to-50-year sentence. "I started looking for a program that would help me do my bit and keep me out of trouble," Leggett's interest and activity in the Jaycees grew, and this year he succeeded Duffy as chapter president. He will be the first black president the group has had since it was founded 19 years ago. Duffy and Leggett can list an impressive array of projects undertaken by their chapter, such as a "burns awareness" program which raises money for the National Institute of Burn Medicine in Ann Arbor. Last year, the Jaycees turned over more than $1,000 to the institute.

They got the cash through donations to the program. The Jaycees make money for their projects in other ways. Their biggest money maker is a snack stand and soda bar located inside the prison walls. Inmates can buy treats there like soda, candy and potato chips.

The group also hopes to raise cash through the sale of and advertising in its new newsletter, called "Con-cept." Earlier this year, the group gave the prison infirmary a motorized mini-ambulance to replace an old car. The vehicle, which was purchased with $1,900 in Jaycee funds, was surely needed.

Patients had been known to fall from the cart en route to the infirmary, and some may have lost their lives because of delays with the former antiquated system, according to inmates. But there was no one to underwrite a new method to transport the ill and the injured — until the Jaycees came along.

U.S. COVERUP CHARGED UFO Fans Still Faithful

By JACK CHEEVERS

Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — At one table, "UFO Magazine" and "Flying Saucer Digest" were selling next to "The Zeta Reticulin Incident." Sales of "UFOs — Myth and Mystery" were well, astronomical.

A few feet away, a man named Alpha hawked "UFO kits" stuffed with star maps between snatches of conversation with a man wearing a moon pendant and a lightning-bolt T-shirt.

The gathering of zany and serious students of the extraterrestrial was the 14th annual National UFO — Unidentified Flying Object — Conference. It came complete with brainy-looking kids behind inch-thick glasses, young mothers bouncing babies on their knees and tweedy scientific types.

About 500 fans of the far-out packed the hotel ballroom to hear speeches, trade UFO stories and speculate about why more and more little green men seem to be touching down on Planet Earth.

The conference was keynoted by Stanton Friedman, a self-described "Ralph Nader of the UFO world" and nuclear physicist who has made a career of contradicting government reports debunking UFOs.

"The government's investigation of UFOs has been completely inadequate," he said.

"Sightings by military people, like pilots, are reported to the Air Force's Air Defense Command, where they slap an immediate security clamp on the information."

After years of working for government space contractors and seeing what secrets the government keeps, Friedman came to believe flying saucers are real and the government knows it — but is keeping its mouth shut.

"They're out there all right, and the government is aware of it. But even if you've seen the saucers, wait'll you see the drivers," he said.

In the 1950s, when he worked on nuclear powered aircraft engines, Friedman said he thought the whole idea of gleaming saucers running cars off country roads and aliens in the neighborhood was crazy.

Then, in 1955, he read Project Bluebook's Report 14.

Project Bluebook was a 20-year-long investigation by the Air Force of reported UFO sightings by military personnel, especially fighter pilots.

In its heyday, Friedman said, Project Bluebook consisted of a major, a desk sergeant and a couple of filing cabinets. He said much evidence documenting the existence of saucers was intentionally covered up and will never surface.

"I've talked to about 75 former military people, some of whom reported their sightings to Bluebook. What happened to all those reports?" he asked.

From the crowd that hung on Friedman's every word, it appears interest in things intergalactic is on the upswing. But what do the star-trekking want with us earthlings, anyway?

By the end of World War II, Friedman said, "any intelligent space traveler could see that we'd be leaving the planet. It would make sense to them to gather all the data available about the newest addition to the family of space travelers.

"For all we know, UFOs could be nothing more than a bunch of alien graduate students on a field trip."

AMC Pacer Wagon. Drive one to appreciate how unique it is.

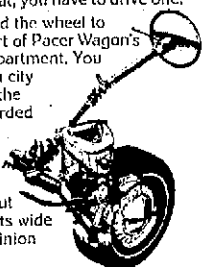

AMC Pacer Wagon

One look tells you that the Pacer Wagon is unique and unusual. And the feature that makes it that way is its great width. (Never before has there been such a wide compact wagon on such a short wheel base.) But we didn't make the Pacer Wagon wide just to look different. We did it to give you a unique blend of mid-size room, ride and handling. And, to appreciate that, you have to drive one. You have to sit behind the wheel to really feel the comfort of Pacer Wagon's wide passenger compartment. You have to zip it through city traffic to experience the maneuverability afforded by its short wheel base. And you have to cruise on the highway to enjoy the great stability and taut handling proved by its wide track and rack and pinion steering.

Room, ride and comfort aren't the only reasons Pacer Wagon is a great car to drive. It's loaded with other niceties that make it a pleasure to own.

Like an oversized passenger door for easy ins and outs; panoramic visibility; a wide rear hatch for easy access to the flat load floor; and a fold-down rear seat that gives you extra loading space. Pacer Wagon is also backed by AMC's exclusive Buyer Protection Plan, the only full warranty that covers everything on your car (except tires) for 12 months/12,000 miles.

With so many features, it's not surprising that Pacer Wagon is a great value for the money. But you will be surprised by the great deal your AMC Dealer has for you right now. Stop by and see him soon.

GOV'T SALARIES TOPIC Lance, Carter Huddling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bert Lance, accused of lacking the qualifications to be budget director, is meeting with the President to discuss a budget matter: how much the government can afford to pay its employees.

Lance, director of the Office of Management and Budget, was scheduled to meet with President Carter today in the Oval Office at the White House. An aide said Carter summoned Lance and two other advisers to talk about budgeting pay for civil servants.

The other advisers are Labor Secretary Ray Marshall and Chairman Alan Campbell of the Civil Service Commission.

The meeting came one day after Sen. William Proxmire, who cast the lone vote against confirming Lance as budget director, said he would like to see Lance replaced — but that Lance should not resign at this time.

Proxmire spoke Sunday on CBS-TV's "Face the Nation."

On the other hand, Rep. Henry Reuss, chairman of the House Currency and Banking Committee, said Lance should continue in his job.

Reuss, a Wisconsin Democrat, said during a visit to Salt Lake City that Lance broke no laws — although there should be laws against some of the things he did.

Noting the current controversy over Lance's financial dealings as a Georgia banker, Proxmire said: "If Mr. Lance should leave now, there might be a feeling he was drummed out for a lack of integrity, and he's a man of high integrity. But I do hope there might be a time when Mr. Lance can step aside."

"In an investigation of Lance's dealings in recent years, the U.S. comptroller of the currency reported Aug. 18 that he had found what he called unsound banking practices, but cleared Lance of any criminal wrongdoing."

An Associated Press report last week disclosed that Lance pledged the same collateral for separate loans from two different banks. White House Press Secretary Jody Powell called it an innocent mistake.

The New York Times reported in its Sunday editions that Lance apparently failed to disclose all of his financial holdings and debts in a network statement submitted to the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee before it began his confirmation hearings in January.

Robert W. Dietsch, Lance's chief spokesman, denied the assertion and said Lance "completely disclosed everything that was required of him" by President Carter and by the committee.

Lance, in an interview with CBS News, made his own denial: "I'm the most fully disclosed fellow around anywhere that I know about."

The budget director's wife, LaBelle, told the Atlanta Constitution they are selling their Atlanta mansion, a 40-room home called "Butterfly Manor," because "we plan to be in Washington for a long, long time."

Proxmire indicated he doesn't believe Lance is qualified to be budget director, saying in the one area he is supposed to be expert, running a bank, "he hasn't done well. His bank is losing money."

But the senator questioned whether Lance should be held accountable for his actions before he joined the federal government.

"We can probably dig up material on almost anybody in office if we go back far enough," he said.

State Reconsidering Plan To 'Decriminalize' Truancy

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State officials will reconsider a suggestion that children of any age be permitted to leave home or become truants without interference from law enforcement agencies.

The Michigan Juvenile Justice Services Commission has decided to modify its proposals so juvenile courts could retain limited jurisdiction over truants and runaways.

A spokesman said the commission was flooded with telephone calls and letters after public hearings on its 126 recommendations for reforms of the state's juvenile justice system. The key change would have permitted a child of any age to leave home or become truant from school without police or school interference.

The commission, reacting to public criticism, decided last week to appoint a subcommittee to draft an alternate plan.

The commission, appointed by Gov. William Milliken, will meet in Lansing Sept. 11-13 to approve the entire package of recommendations. After approval by the commission, the report and recommendations must be reviewed by the governor and the state Supreme Court and the legislature where it faces opposition in the latter body.

Tony Curtis Is Penning A Fortune

MIDLER: Looking for the right film

CURTIS: Writer-actor doing fine

Q: Now that Tony Curtis' first novel hasn't been much of a success, will he resume his movie career? — K.S., Detroit.

A: Tony's first book, "Kid Andrew Cody & Julie Sparrow," may not have been a literary success but was very definitely a financial winner. He got about $250,000 for hardcover and paperback rights. And with super agent Irving Lazar handling his writing deals, Tony is now reportedly getting $300,000 for rights to his second novel, "Starstruck." The writer-actor is about to leave for the Far East where he'll star in "The Bad News Bears Go to Japan" for Paramount for about $500,000. With those figures Tony plans to continue writing and acting for a long time to come.

Q: Are the rumors true that Bette Midler has found real love at least with an off-Broadway actor? — C.K., Detroit.

A: Bette has been living with Peter Riegert, who was appearing in an off-Broadway play, "Sexual Perversity in Chicago," when they met last winter. Currently they are holed up in a Beverly Hills estate leased from the consul general of the Ivory Coast, while Bette tries to find the right movie property to launch her movie career. They seem to be particularly camera-shy, and one reason may be that Peter can best be described as a Woody Allen personality. Bette, in the meantime, is busy glamorizing herself, starting stayed casual friends. So, when Curt called and asked her to do the cameo role, she agreed in memory of old times. Joanne will turn over her salary to the ballet company she has formed called "Dancers."

A: That book about Queen Elizabeth, "Majesty," really had some inside stuff. How did the author get it? — R.H., Philadelphia.

A: Biographer Robert Lacey managed to get to Prince Philip, who went to the Queen on Lacey's behalf. Elizabeth said she wouldn't see him but that Philip would if Lacey did not publicize his source — and that was the deal.

QUESTION YOU DIDN'T ASK: Who's the latest porno queen to announce her retirement from the heavy tenters? Jennifer Welles, the over-35 but voluptuous blond headliner of several x-rated epics. She'll concentrate on directing and magazine publishing, says Ms. Welles, who directed her latest porno feature, "Inside Jennifer Welles." In that flick, she acts out a long list of sexual fantasies. From here on, she says, all her films will be strictly R-rated efforts. Well, the porno fans' loss is the Directors' Guild gain.

Q: How does Jane Fonda manage to hang on to that sensational figure? What's her secret? — J.R., Greenwich, Conn.

A: The real secret is that

Jane is a compulsive eater. She starves on celery juice and then gorges herself at night eating everything in sight, particularly cheese. Her two secrets are self-discipline when necessary and a masseuse who travels with her when she's working. The woman is a specialist in something called fatty massage and she seems to be great at beating off all the excess poundage.

Q: We can hardly believe the news about Brenda Vaccaro getting a divorce after so short a time. Why did she rush into it and why is she rushing out of it? — N.T., Greenville, S.C.

A: Brenda was pushed into the marriage by both her mother, who thought William Bishop was a great catch, and by Bishop himself. Brenda suggested they live together for a while but he insisted on marriage. The actress is rushing ahead on the divorce on the advice of legal counsel. Since they were married in Texas and as Bishop didn't actually move in with her since she was on location doing a movie, there's a good chance Brenda can avoid a community property settlement.

WOODWARD: Salary goes to 'Dancers'

Second City Getting TV Show

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For years, Chicago's famed Second City comedy club has been largely known as the joint such folks as Valerie Harper, Avery Schreiber and many of NBC's "Saturday Night" gang came from.

But it could escape its graduate-school-for-laughter tag soon — with its own weekly TV comedy series. The name of the half-hour effort is "Second City T.V." The inmates are taping 26 shows for starters.

The series, sold to stations on a syndicated basis in 43 markets so far, will commence next month in most of those markets, save New York, where the goods don't go on display until October.

According to Bernard Sahlins, producer of the show and operator of the 17½-year-old Chicago chuckle works, the aim of the TV show is to make sport of, ah, television.

The spoofing occurs at Second City's Channel 109, a mythical station which employs seven performer-writers from the troupe's home club and one it opened in Toronto, Canada, about five years ago.

"What we're doing is parodying every conceivable television form, from sitcoms to 'Sunrise Semester,' everything we can lay our hands on," he said. "I tell you, it's an unlimited field."

Speaking by phone from the Windy City, he said each show's satirical and just plain off-the-wall skills all are written by the series' featured — and relatively unknown — players.

Wares range from a "full-length" TV version of "Ben Hur," lasting 14 minutes, to a piece on critics, with someone posing as Gerardo Rivera asking a Rex "Gang Show" Reed poseur about the carping trade.

Sahlins, whose Chicago club seats 350 patrons, 351 if they're well-acquainted, was asked why his gang didn't try the weekly TV route before. He said times weren't as right for it as now.

"There's a whole new generation of viewers out there now, who were brought up on 'Laugh-In,' 'That Was the Week That Was,' even 'Sesame Street,' with quick, fast humor that short-cuts the (story) exposition required in situation comedies," he said.

"They don't demand continuing characters in the same way audiences did before, and that's sort of a trend in humor now."

He cited the non sequitur jesting of "Monty Python's Flying Circus" as a prime example of the kind of lunatoolery young urban audiences now seem to prefer when they turn on the tube.

"I think in many cages the television audience is underestimated in this sense," he said. "I suspect the situation comedy might be in for a little heavier going from now on."

If the show — taped in Toronto because it cost less to make there — clicks with viewers and reviewers, he said, production on another 26 episodes will start in May.

"For us, this is the road," he said, alluding to the fact that Second City's brand of humor usually is shown outside Chicago through two touring companies.

Should the TV version draw insufficient numbers of home viewing patrons, he added, laughing, "we can always lick our wounds and retreat to our club."

Five Winning Number For Dodger Slugger Garvey

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Steve Garvey's line in the Los Angeles Dodgers' boxscore Sunday would have done him proud in a poker game.

Garvey had five hits, five runs batted in and five runs scored in five at-bats — as the Dodgers walked the St. Louis Cardinals 11-6. But, team man that he is, Garvey preferred to talk about the Dodgers' revival.

"It looks like we're going to start rolling now that we've played so well in the last three days," said the All-Star first baseman, who blasted two home runs, one a grand slam, and three doubles in Los Angeles' third straight victory over the Cardinals. "The key is we're still 8½ games ahead of the (Cincinnati) Reds."

Don Sutton also was a hero for Los Angeles, registering his 47th career shutout, tops for active major league pitchers. Sutton, who has 188 lifetime victories, is 21 shy of Don Drysdale, the team's all-time leader. Sutton also is two shutouts behind Drysdale.

St. Louis' Lou Brock, who is just one stolen base short of Ty Cobb's lifetime record of 892, failed to reach base and was ejected from the game in the eighth inning for arguing on a called strike.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds blasted the Philadelphia Phillies 9-0, the Pittsburgh Pirates trounced the San Diego Padres 10-1, the San Francisco Giants beat the Chicago Cubs 4-1, the Atlanta Braves downed the New York Mets 6-4 and the Houston Astros topped the Montreal Expos 7-2.

The Reds, beginning to play like world champions at last, won their fifth straight game and 12th in the last 15, pummeling

Philadelphia. The loss was the Phillies' fifth in a row and the 10th straight setback in Cincinnati for the Eastern Division leaders. The Phils now lead second-place Pittsburgh by only 3½ games.

Dave Concepcion, who has driven in 10 runs in his last five games, knocked in four runs with two doubles for Cincinnati. George Foster smacked his 43rd homer — tops in the major leagues — a three-run shot in the second, giving him 123 RBI for the season, a career high.

The Pirates completed a three-game sweep of San Diego as Jim Rooker hurled his seventh complete game of the season, a seven-hitter. Rooker, 11-8, got home run support from Fernando Gonzalez, who belted a three-run shot in the third off loser Bob Shirley, 8-16.

Dave Parker, who leads the NL in batting with a .347 average, had three hits, as did Al Oliver.

Rowland Office crashed a two-run homer in the fifth, putting Atlanta ahead of the Mets to stay. The victory was the Braves' fifth in a row, their longest winning streak of the season.

Eddie Solomon, 4-3, pitched 8 2-3 innings before giving way to Dave Campbell, who picked up his fifth save.

Houston erupted for five runs in the eighth inning in completing a three-game sweep of Montreal and extending its winning string to five.

Joe Ferguson's two-run homer capped the rally and gave Floyd Bannister, 5-7, the victory. Montreal ace Steve Rogers, 14-13, took the loss.

Guidry Hurls Birthday Gem

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was Ron Guidry's 27th birthday and he could only think of three better presents to give himself.

"The only things I can think of besides this are a one-hitter, a no-hitter and a perfect game," Guidry said after tossing a two-hitter Sunday, leading the New York Yankees to a 1-0 victory over the Texas Rangers.

The left-hander gave up a two-out triple to Jim Sundberg in the first inning and a leadoff single to Bert Campaneris in the seventh.

Still, it wasn't easy as Rangers pitcher Dock Ellis was almost as stingy.

The Yankees got eight hits off Ellis and needed a little luck to get their run.

Graig Nettles hammered a long drive in the New York sixth inning which right fielder Tom Grieve appeared to be ready to catch near the fence in right center. However, center fielder Juan Beniquez cut in front of Grieve and the ball caromed off Beniquez' glove as he tried for a leaping catch.

One out later, Ellis, 7-11, fell behind 3-0 on Reggie Jackson. Jackson swung at the next pitch and dumped a bloop single into center field, scoring Nettles by posting their 18th victory in their last 21 games. The Yankees remained two games ahead of second-place Boston in the AL East race and opened a four-game lead over Baltimore.

In other AL games Sunday, the Detroit outslug the California Angels 12-9, the Oakland A's defeated the Toronto Blue Jays 6-2, the Cleveland Indians downed the Seattle Mariners 10-4, the Kansas City Royals blanked the Baltimore Orioles 5-0, the Boston Red Sox edged the Minnesota Twins 6-5 and the Milwaukee Brewers clobbered the Chicago White Sox 19-1.

A two-run homer by John Wathan was the big blow as Kansas City blanked Baltimore. Wathan also doubled in the sixth inning when the Royals scored two runs.

Andy Hassler, 7-5, and Doug Bird combined for a five-hitter as the Royals posted their 11th victory in 12 games. The Orioles have lost six of their last eight.

Carl Yastrzemski singled in the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning and relievers Mike Paxton and Bill Campbell held Minnesota at bay as Boston nipped the Twins.

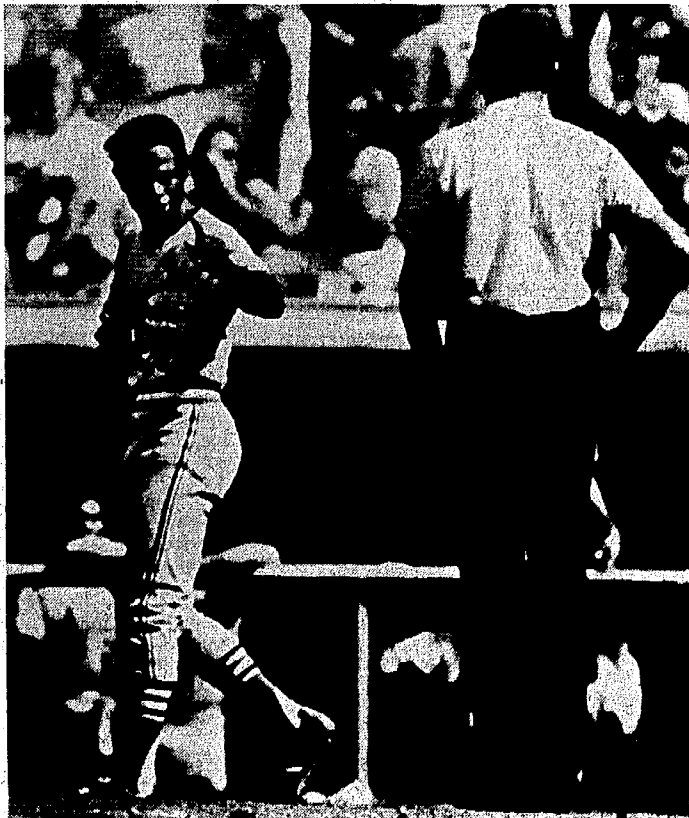

Paxton allowed just one hit from the fifth inning until the ninth when Minnesota threatened with two hits. Campbell then took over and retired Rod Carew and Lyman Bostock, ending the game.

Mitchell Page slammed his 14th home run of the season and Vida Blue tossed a six-hitter, leading Oakland past Toronto. Blue, 13-15, struck out nine and walked four.

Page's eighth-inning blast carried over the fence in deep right-center, and the A's added two more runs in the ninth on Jim Tyrone's RBI double and a run-scoring single by Rob Piccolo.

Rico Carty blasted a triple and two homers, driving in five runs, helping Cleveland to its 10-6 victory over Seattle. Carty smacked a two-run triple, capping the Indians' three-run first inning, led off the fourth with a solo home run and closed out a five-run fifth inning with a two-run shot to right field.

Ron Pruitt added a three-run homer for Cleveland as the Indians gained their 14th victory in the last 20 games.

BROCK EJECTED: St. Louis' Lou Brock, who has been one steal shy of Ty Cobb's career base-stealing record for several games, has a comment for base umpire Nick Colosi as he heads for the showers after being ejected in Dodger Stadium Sunday. Brock, who failed to get on base at all, got the thumb from the plate umpire when he disputed a called third strike. Los Angeles clobbered the Cardinals, 11-0. (AP Wirephoto)

Cage Playoff In Big Ten?

KINGS MILLS, Ohio (AP) — Big Ten Commissioner Wayne Duke, in the midst of a football tour, dropped a basketball bombshell.

Duke revealed Sunday the conference is weighing a post season tournament to decide the conference's representative to the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball playoffs.

"I initiated this because I could foresee the emergence of post season tournaments having a real influence on the NCAA. I was more opposed than in favor of it," he said.

A committee appointed by Duke, composed of athletic directors George King of Purdue and Pete Elliott of Iowa and coaches John Orr of Michigan and Lou Henson of Illinois, are studying the idea.

Under the proposal, there would be four first round sites in the 10-team league, beginning with the 1978-79 season. The first and second place finishers in the regular season standings would be seeded into the semifinals.

"But I want to emphasize to you," Duke told more than 30 Midwest writers, "no determination has been made. I cannot speculate what the conference's reaction might be to such a proposal."

The writers are on a tour of

Big Ten football training camps and stopped here at King's Island amusement park for Duke's news conference.

Duke said one of the advantages for the tourney would be financial.

"It would gross between $750,000 and $800,000," Duke estimated.

The league's basketball coaches will vote on the proposal in October, followed by the Big Ten athletic directors and faculty representatives in December.

"The basketball coaches cannot kill it," said Duke. "They can only influence it."

Of the nation's major conferences, only the Pacific 8, Southeastern, Western Athletic, Big Ten and Mid-American do not stage post season playoffs to determine their NCAA representatives.

"The haves are going to be opposed to it. The have nots will be for it. It gives them a second chance," said Duke.

Meanwhile, the commissioner said a Big Ten probe into charges of violations in the Ohio State football program will be finished within this school year.

Duke also said the league has no intentions of adopting Indiana Coach Lee Corso's proposal for a six-game league football schedule.

Irwin Proves Point With Big Win

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Leonard Thompson was bewildered.

He'd just played the back nine in a course-record 29. He had a round of 66 and, on the feared No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club — one of the nation's most demanding layouts — had finished 72 holes a dizzying 15 strokes under par.

"What do you have to do to win around here?" Thompson inquired after finishing a distant second to Hale Irwin, who was 20 under.

Irwin, who had to win to prove a personal point — "there was no alternative," he said — compiled rounds of 65, 62, 69 and 68 into a 264 total, the best score of the year on the pro tour, and won by five strokes over Thompson in the Hall of Fame Golf Classic Sunday.

"The score, on this golf course, is amazing," Irwin said. "It is not amazing that I won. I had to win. Any win is nice. This is particularly so."

It may have been the sweetest of his nine career triumphs, most of which have come over the most difficult courses America can offer. The authoritative manner in which he subdued famed old No. 2 made it one of his most artistic.

More importantly, to Irwin, at least, it proved a point.

It got him back in the World Series of Golf, to be played this weekend at Akron, Ohio.

"I'd been shuffled off, told I wasn't good enough," Irwin said. "There've been two World Series (under the new, expanded format) and I've had to qualify three times."

And he didn't like it at all. The whole matter, he said, "was not handled properly.... It was not fair."

When Irwin won the Atlanta Classic May 29 he was told he'd qualified for the World Series off a point list. He made his plans accordingly, taking some time off, turning down some financial offers to play in the World Series.

Six weeks later, he was told there had been an error in compiling the points. He wasn't in. He was out.

Only his victory here, which qualified him as a double winner for the year, got him in. He could make it in no other fashion. It was, he said, prior to the tournament, "a must-win situation."

No one really got close. Rookie Jeff Mitchell finished third with a 67-72, eight shots back. J. C. Snead, with a closing 68, and Lou Graham, with a 70, were next of 274, 10 behind.

Masters and British Open champ Tom Watson was ninth with 69-70 and just missed reaching the $300,000 plateau.

Watson has earned now has $238,428 and, in the World Series, will join Johnny Miller and Jack Nicklaus as the only men to reach $300,000 in a single season.

Irwin won $50,000 from the total purse of $250,000 and pushed his winnings for the year to $158,456.

Brewers Knock On Wood For 10-1 Win Over Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Sal Bando's two-run homer capped a four-run first inning and Don Money drove in three runs with a homer and a single Sunday, leading the Milwaukee Brewers to a 10-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Sunday.

The Brewers knocked out Wilbur Wood, 6-7, in the first as Jim Wohlford and Robin Yount singled and scored on a single by Money before Bando blasted his 16th homer. The ball, aided by a 23 mile-an-hour wind, landed on the upper deck roof in left field.

Jimmy Wynn singled in a pair in the Milwaukee second, Yount doubled and scored on a wild pitch in the fourth and Money led off a two-run seventh with his 22nd homer. Wynn followed with a triple and scored on a single by Steve Brye.

Lary Sorensen boosted his record to 5-7 and had a two-hit shutout working until Eric Soderholm led off the sixth with his 21st homer.

Milwaukee added a run in the eighth on a single by Wohlford and a double by Yount.

Bando became the 19th player in the 67-year history of Comiskey Park to hit the ball out of the mammoth arena.

U-M's Dufek Out

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Bill Dufek, the University of Michigan's All-Big 10 offensive tackle, will be sidelined for at least half of the 1977 football season because of an ankle injury.

U-M officials confirmed Saturday that X-rays showed he has a cracked fibula.

The senior All-American candidate received the injury in a pass-blocking drill, U-M said.

Michigan coach Bo Schembechler said Dufek's status "will be uncertain for several weeks, but it appears right now he will miss the first half of the season."

"His injury will not in any way affect his future in football," Schembechler added. "It just comes at a very inopportune time."

The Wolverines open their season Sept. 10 at Illinois. The 6-foot-4, 255-pound Dufek will be replaced by Jon Giesler, a 6-4, 253-pound junior from Woodville, Ohio.

GARY HUFF
Knee Injured

Things Get Worse For Tampa Bay

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
After last year's 0-14 season, Tampa Bay Buccaneers Coach John McKay probably figured that things couldn't get much worse.

He may have been wrong.

The second-year National Football League Bucs started the preseason with six quarterbacks. Following Saturday's game, they are down to two.

Steve Spurrier quarterbacked the Bucs through their inaugural season last year but left the team in a dispute with McKay over the right to call plays.

That left Mike Boryla in charge, but he was injured in last week's 10-7 victory over Green Bay and will be out for the entire season.

McKay had counted on Gary Huff to help improve Tampa Bay's record, but that hope ended Sunday in the Buccaneers' 30-21 "fall-from-head" loss to the Atlanta Falcons.

Huff completed 15 of 23 passes for a club-record 237 yards and three touchdowns and had the Bucs leading 21-20 early in the fourth quarter. But he was tackled after releasing a pass and severely injured his left knee.

Doctors expect him to be out of action for four to six weeks.

Substitute quarterback Parnell Dickinson failed to complete a pass in five attempts and had two intercepted as the Bucs folded in the final quarter.

"This is the most serious blow we've suffered since I've been here," McKay said. "I would say there's a 50-50 chance of the Bucs bringing a new quarterback into camp."

In addition to Dickinson, the only other quarterback in camp is rookie Randy Hedbergh, from Minot, S.D. State.

Elsewhere in the NFL, any team that wants to beat the Baltimore Colts ought to consult with Efraim Herrera about strategy.

The Dallas Cowboys' field goal specialist booted a 33-yard field goal as the gun went off to beat the Colts 23-21 Saturday night.

Herrera did the same thing during last year's regular season to defeat Baltimore, 30-27.

Dallas' Heisman Trophy winner Tony Dorsett scampered for 99 yards and helped move the ball into position for Herrera's field goal.

In Sunday's games, rookie Wilbert Montgomery's 90-yard kickoff return and two scoring strikes by quarterback Ron Jaworski rallied the Philadelphia Eagles to a 28-24 victory over the Denver Broncos and John Smith kicked a 32-yard field goal in overtime to give the New England Patriots a 13-10 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers in the 100-degree-plus heat at Schaefer Stadium.

On Saturday, the Cincinnati Bengals routed the St. Louis Cardinals 33-8; the New York Jets defeated the New Orleans Saints 20-14; the Oakland Raiders romped over the San Diego Chargers 35-7 and the Detroit Lions edged the Seattle Seahawks 18-14.

Washington's Redskins edged the Green Bay Packers 13-9 and the Kansas City Chiefs surprised the Los Angeles Rams 27-10.

In tonight's NFL action, O.J. Simpson and his Buffalo Bills invade Giants Stadium while the San Francisco 49ers play the Oilers at the Houston Astrodome.

Four Interceptions Aid Lions' Victory Seahawks' Zorn Stopped

SEATTLE (AP) — Jim Zorn and the Detroit Lions defensive secondary make quite a combination. He throws the ball and they catch it.

"When you start making mistakes," said Zorn, the Seattle Seahawks' second-year quarterback, "you have to overcome them quick. But we kept making mistakes."

Detroit's ball-hawking defenders intercepted four of Zorn's 17 passes Saturday night as the Lions defeated the Seahawks 16-14 in a National Football League exhibition game before a Kingdome crowd of 56,345.

It wasn't the first time Zorn has had problems with the Lions. The young, left-handed quarterback suffered six interceptions against Detroit in a 41-14 regular season drubbing here last season.

"I may have been pressing too hard and forcing passes in the first quarter," said Zorn. The Seahawks had the ball for four series in the quarter. Zorn threw four times without completing a pass, had one intercepted and was sacked for a safety.

"It's a game I've got to forget," he said.

"We were glad to win, but I'm glad it's over. I didn't feel good about it," said Detroit Coach Tommy Hudspeth, whose club built a 16-0 lead and then held on for the victory.

"They gained a lot of ground last year, and they ran the same way this year," Hudspeth said. "It wasn't the kind of game I prefer to watch."

The victory snapped a two-game Detroit losing string and boosted its preseason record to 2-2. The loss was Seattle's first in four exhibition games.

"We really didn't play that well," defensively, reasoned Jack Palera, the Seahawks' coach. "David Sims gave us a little life, but we made way too many errors. Defensively, we played pretty good football."

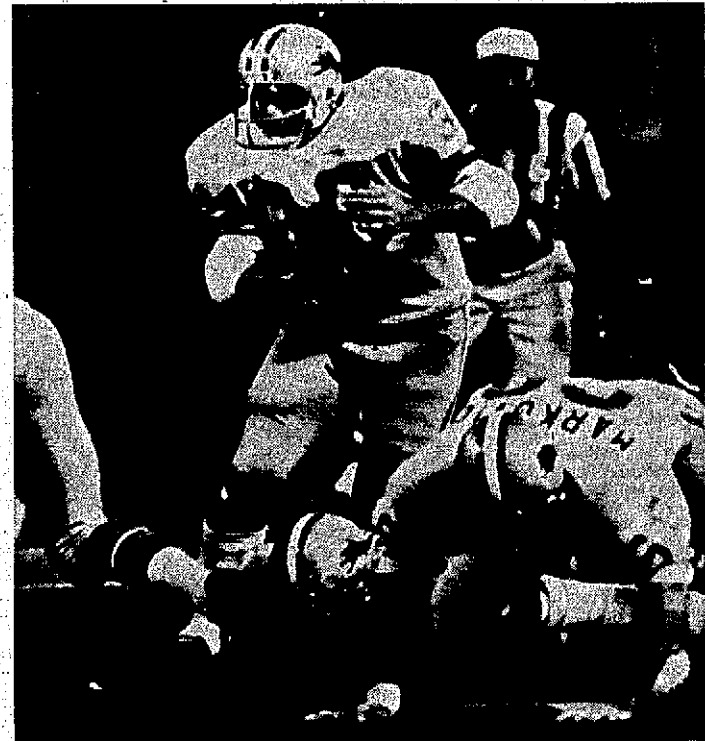

Zorn finally found a receiver with 1:14 left in the game when he hit Duke Ferguson with a 40-yard scoring pass. The conversion made it 16-14, but the Seahawks got the ball back for only one more play, a desperation Zorn pass with three seconds left.

A pair of rookies, running back Rick Kane from San Jose State, and wide receiver Luther Blue from Iowa State, scored touchdowns for Detroit. Kane scored on a one-yard run midway in the second period that gave the Lions a 9-0 lead. A pass interference call in the end zone two plays earlier gave Detroit a first and goal at the one.

Blue scored two minutes later when he fielded a Rick Engles' punt at the Detroit 31 and zig-zagged his way down field 69 yards into the end zone.

The Lions had taken a 2-0 first period lead when Doug English tackled Zorn in the end zone for a safety. Seattle had taken possession on its own one-yard line after stopping a Detroit drive.

Seattle marched 64 yards in 11 plays behind reserve quarterback Steve Myer for its first score late in the second period, which narrowed Detroit's half-time lead to 16-7. Sims, a rookie running back from Georgia Tech, who lead all rushers with 80 yards on 15 carries, carried the final four yards for the score.

FINDING THE HOLE: Detroit's Mark Hubbard (36) finds a hole as he goes over Mark Markovich (68) Saturday night in the Lions' preseason game against Seattle. Hubbard made a good gain on this second quarter play. Detroit went on to hand the Seahawks their first exhibition loss, 16-14. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Captures Walker Trophy

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Lindy Miller's 54-foot putt led to a 1-up victory over Steve Martin of Great Britain Saturday, allowing the United States to capture its third consecutive Walker Cup, 16-8, over the British.

Miller, last year's Big Eight Conference champion from Fort Worth, Tex., went into the final hole of the match even with his opponent. The American, who enters his senior year at Oklahoma State next month, used a No. 6 iron for a 160-foot second shot, but he landed 50 feet from the cup.

Calmly he sank the putt for the birdie on the par-four, 428-yard hole at the Shinnecock Hills Country Club.

Gary Hallberg, a 19-year old sophomore at Wake Forest University and the youngest player in the tourney, applied the clincher with a 4-and-3 win over Peter McEvoy, the British Amateur champion.

The host squad, captained by Lewis Oehmig of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., entered Saturday's action with a 9-3 lead. It decided the morning foursome matches and it was Miller who teamed with Scott Simpson, two-time NCAA titlist, for the biggest triumph of the two-day event.

Trailing by three holes at the midway point, the American combination rallied for a 2-up decision over McEvoy and John Davies, who was playing in his third Walker Cup.

Simpson, 22-year-old resident of San Diego, sank a 38-foot putt for a par 3 on the 17th that gave them a one-hole advantage. The British duo bogied the 18th, while Miller and Simpson went par.

The two Americans finished undefeated. Miller played in all four matches, Simpson in only three.

"I was lucky to make that putt," said Miller, low-ranking amateur in this year's U.S. Open. "All I was trying to do was get the ball close to the pin."

"Martin was having his problems and I figured the worst I could do was get a par. That would have been good enough for the win and insure the tie. I thought it was important to get that first win this afternoon and lead the way for the rest of the guys."

Hallberg was elated that he'd made the winning stroke, saying, "I'm the youngest player here and I hope to be back in two years when it is played in Great Britain."

Wolverines Second, Irish Third Oklahoma Ranked No. 1

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — University of Oklahoma head football coach Barry Switzer hopes that history repeats itself this year and the Sooners can start and finish with the No. 1 Associated Press ranking.

"I just hope they (the voters) were right as they were in '75 when they picked us No. 1 in the preseason," Switzer said.

The Sooners lost only to Kansas 23-3 that year, capturing the crown by going 11-1 and finishing with a 14-0 victory over Michigan in the Orange Bowl.

The Sooners again have garnered the No. 1 preseason ranking, but have to get past their always tough Big Eight Conference foes plus such non-conference opponents as Texas and No. 5-ranked Ohio State.

"There are 1,000 things that have got to happen good for you to end up there (as No. 1)," Switzer said. "There's a lot of luck involved and you've got to stay healthy. It's very difficult."

"I'm excited about it," said safety Zac Henderson. "I think it's sort of good. When you're not ranked No. 1, you have to wait on the breaks to be No. 1. To start out on top, that's a real good advantage."

Big Hartford Race Postponed By Rain

HARTFORD — A total of 87 cars qualified Sunday at Hartford Motor Speedway for the Marc Times Invitational Hoosier Showdown.

But rain forced the races to be postponed after the first eight heats. The remaining races were rescheduled for Sept. 11.

Bill Mysliewicz of Grand Rapids set a new track record with a fast time of 22.04 seconds. Jerry Longnecker of Grand Rapids won the fast car dash.

The first heat went to Jim

Burrows of South Haven, while Bob Dunne of Galien took the second. The remaining heat winners in order were Howard Moyer of Unadilla, Ind., in the third, Tom Markstrom of South Haven in the fourth, Lynn Zimmerman of Grand Rapids in the fifth, Tom Robinson in the sixth, Carl Porter in the seventh and Perry Pepple of Coloma in the eighth.

Hartford will host a late model show Friday with time trials beginning at 7 p.m. and racing at 8:30 p.m.

'Bull' Powers Taiwan Win

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Ching Chen-jung is a standout on a team that stresses teamwork.

People marveled when the 12-year-old slugger took the field here for the first time with his teammates from the Li-Teh Little League of Taiwan.

They still were stunned when Chen-jung left the field a champion Saturday after pitching and batting Li-Teh to a 7-2 victory over Western Little League of El Cajon, Calif., in the 31st annual Little League World Series.

The 5-foot-5, 143-pounder finished the tournament with a record .833 batting average, pounding out 10 hits in 12 times at bat with 10 runs batted in. He had three hits and two RBI while pitching a four-hitter to help Li-Teh win the title, the ninth in the last 11 years by a Far East representative.

"Fundamentally, he does everything you're supposed to do to hit the ball. He's amazing," said Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Don Sutton, who did color commentary for ABC-TV. Ex-Chicago Cub and Baseball Hall of Famer Ernie Banks, also on hand for the tournament, called Chen-jung "the best hitter I've seen outside of professional baseball."

After Chen-jung walloped three home runs while playing third base in his first two games, people here called him, "The Bull," a reference to powerful Philadelphia Phillies slugger Greg Luzinski.

To top off his tournament performance, Chen-jung struck out nine and walked two to insure Li-Teh's victory.

"I have played better but it is a thrill to win," said Chen-jung, quiet and reserved like his teammates.

Led by Chen-jung, the Taiwanese outscored three opponents 35-4 and outlived them, 35-9.

Veteran Backs Boost Hopes At Fennville

FENNVILLE — Unlike a lot of teams this season, Fennville has virtually its entire backfield returning this season.

All coach Gary Frens has to do now is get a line to open some holes for his backs.

"We've got to rebuild our line and I think we have good people to do the job," Frens comments.

The Blackhawks, 2-7 last season, will have back their leading ground gainer — Gary Morse. The 5-11, 170-pound senior gained about 500 yards, but he sat out part of the season with an injury.

Also returning are senior quarterback Doug Scudder (5-9, 160), and junior fullback Mike McFarland (5-11, 165) and senior halfback Ed Bale (5-10, 160).

Kevin Harrington, a 5-9, 150-pound senior, will be switched to halfback from his end slot. The other end back is senior George Thompson (5-11, 135).

The only experienced lineman returning is senior center Matt Stuit (6-0, 175). Juniors Frens hopes will help fill the holes include Bill Scovill, Steve Bush, Bill Bale, David Betts and Jim Weeks.

Other juniors Frens is counting on are Jim Raak on the line and halfback Rod Steenberg.

On defense, Ed Bale and Thompson will be halfbacks, Harrington a linebacker and Stuit will anchor the line.

"Depth is going to be a key for us," Frens explains. "We're not very big, so we have to emphasize quickness. I think we will have pretty decent overall speed on the team."

Frens looks at Saugatuck as the team to beat in the Allegan-Ottawa. "Saugatuck has a lot of people back this season. They have good size and good speed."

Hunter May Join Seattle Seahawks

SEATTLE (AP) — Al Hunter of Notre Dame could become a member of the Seattle Seahawks this week after being selected in a special NFL draft last week.

Hunter, who became the first player in Irish history to rush for over 1,000 yards last fall, was barred from playing for Notre Dame this year because of a dormitory violation.

The Seahawks forfeited their fourth-round choice in the regular 1978 draft for Hunter. Under provisions announced by Commissioner Pete Rozelle, should the Seahawks sign Hunter, they would not be required to count him on their roster until Sept. 27, the Tuesday following the second regular-season game. However, he is eligible to play in preseason games.

The grace period would be terminated if the Seahawks decide to activate Hunter for either of their first two regular season games.

National Legion Champion Back

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Santa Monica, Calif., has earned the right to defend its national American Legion baseball championship.

Santa Monica defeated Las Vegas, 8-1 Sunday to win the American Legion Western Regional Baseball Tournament and earn a berth in the World Series at Manchester, N.H., Sept. 1-5.

David Montanari collected a double and two singles for Santa Monica, which got off to a fast start with three runs in the first inning, another in the second and two more in the third. Las Vegas, which scored in the ninth inning, committed five errors.

Blissfield Battling

BELLWOOD, Ill. — Unbeaten South Bend and once-beaten Blissfield, the Michigan state champion, were to resume play here today in the championship clash of the American Legion Great Lakes Baseball Regional Tournament. The teams were scheduled 0-0 after five innings Sunday when play was suspended because of rain.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jacques Plante, the first goalie in modern hockey history to wear a facemask regularly in league play, has been hired by the Philadelphia Flyers to work with their netminders at the National Hockey League team's training camp next month.

Haughton Wins Yonkers Trot

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — "Who thinks a New York-bred is good enough to win a Triple Crown?" Billy Haughton asked.

He should know. He trains and drives a New York-bred good enough to win the Trotting Triple, but can't because of Haughton's misjudgment.

Green Speed owned the Trotting Triple Crown Saturday night by winning the Yonkers Trot and now heads for DuQuoin, Ill., and the Hambletonian next Saturday. However, that will be end of the Triple Crown road for 3-year-old, owned by Beverly Lloyds.

Haughton nominated him for the Kentucky Futurity at Lexington Oct. 7 but "I just didn't keep him eligible."

That means that if Billy and his son Peter are to sweep the Triple Crown for the second straight year, Peter will have to win the Kentucky Futurity with Cold Comfort. Billy won the Yonkers Trot and Hambletonian last year with Steve Lobell and then finished second in the Futurity to Peter and Quick Pay.

Green Speed keeps reminding Haughton of his mistake.

ion after Green Speed, aped twice around Yonkers Raceway's half-mile track in 1:50 for five-length victory over Sugarbowl Hanover in the Yonkers Trot.

However, Green Speed sometimes is bad-mannered, breaking stride seemingly because he wants to. But he has been wellbehaved enough to win 11 of 15 starts this year and his half of the Yonkers Trot purse of $250,000 boosted his career earnings to $441,240 on a record of 19 victories, two seconds and two third in 30 starts.

than a quarter of a mile left. At that point, his backers could start for the cashier's window to get the $3.40 return on $2 win ticket.

The filly Elmsford finished third and was followed by ABC Freight, Cold Comfort, Gettysburg and Kenwood Hampton. Cold Comfort was disqualified and placed sixth for a long break in the stretch.

Bill Hayes, president of the Illinois State Fair, the Hambletonian host, expected from 15 to 20 starters. If 17 are entered, the race will have to be split.

Some of those expected to join the Triple Crown competition in the Hambletonian include Speed In Action, Reprise, Texas, Jury Hanover and Jodevin.

Olympic Look For Student Games

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — "We don't want to copy or conflict with the Olympic games in any way," said Primo Nebiolo, Italian President of the World University Games.

But the Games which finished at Sofia at the weekend, with 4,500 athletes from nearly 90 countries, had a very Olympic look with small and subtle differences.

The old students' song "gaudeamus igitur" was played at the olympic-style medal ceremonies instead of the champion's national anthem.

The final medals tabulation looked like recent Olympic games again: the Soviet Union top with 30 golds, 31 silvers and 29 bronzes, and the United States next with 18-11-13.

The International Federation of University Sports (FISU) now plans to start university winter games, beginning in Czechoslovakia next February. The next main university games are set for Mexico City in 1979, and Edmonton, Canada is bidding for 1981.

"I am often asked why we don't hold the Games every four years, like the Olympics," Nebiolo said.

"We prefer to have them every two years. The average university course lasts four years, and we want students to have the opportunity of competing in the games twice."

Nebiolo claimed 80 per cent of Olympic competitors are students and therefore eligible for the university games. But many countries, including the United States, were represented by less than their strongest eligible teams. The Eastern Bloc takes this event more seriously than the West.

The ten-day games produced two world records in track and field — by Alejandro Casanas of Cuba in the 110 meters hurdles (13.21) and Alberto Juanorena of Cuba in the 800 meters (1:43.4).

They produced no political incidents. The U.S. basketball team got into a scrap with the Cubans on the way to winning the gold medal, and Jim Bailey of Rutgers retired from the campaign with arm injuries made with a broken bottle. But that was the only war note.

SPORTS CAPSULES

SWIMMING
BERLIN — The United States, with the men setting three world records, defeated East Germany 176-168 in a two-day swimming meet but by the narrowest spread in this series which started in 1971. Joe Bottom snatched away Mark Spitz' last world record, winning the 400-meter butterfly; Brian Goodell bettered his own mark in the 400-meter freestyle, and the 400-meter freestyle relay team won in a sizzling 3:21.11, surpassing the former world mark set by Americans in Cali, Colombia, in 1975, by more than three seconds.

WORLD UNIVERSITY GAMES
SOFIA, Bulgaria — Sid Moncrief of Arkansas scored 16 points to lead the United States to a 87-66 victory over the Soviet Union to capture the basketball gold medal at the World University Games. However, The Soviet Union's women's basketball team defeated the U.S. 107-90 to win the gold medal in that competition.

ROWING
AMSTERDAM — East Germany made a clean sweep of the women's finals and swept up five of eight gold medals in the men's finals at the world rowing championships. The women won and set records in all six events as the East Germans continued their incredible reign over the sport for a fourth year.

GOLF
PORTMARNOCK, Ireland — Hubert Green dropped a six-foot birdie putt on the last hole to win the $70,000 Irish Open golf championship. Defending champion Ben Crenshaw was second, one stroke back after a neck-and-neck finish. Green netted first-prize money of $14,000 while Crenshaw collected $8,750.

PINEHURST, N.C. — Hale Irvin romped to a frontrunning, five-stroke victory with a three-under-par 68 in the final round of the Hall of Fame Golf Classic. He led by six or seven strokes most of the day and finished with a 72-hole total of 264. Leonard Thompson finished second with 269 after a stunning 66 in the final round. Rookie Jeff Mitchell was next with a 67-272.

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Bonnie Lauer fired a tournament-low, six-under-par 67 to cap a remarkable comeback and win the $55,000 Patty Berg Golf Classic by two strokes over Laura Baugh. She earned $8,250 for her efforts, the biggest professional purse of her short career.

BOWLING
CRANSTON, R.I. — Mark Roth of New York moved back into first place with a 235-pin average after the third round of the $60,000 New England Open Professional Bowlers Association tournament. Roth's 4,232-pin total gives him a 23-pin lead over Pete Couture of Windsor Locks, Conn.

TENNIS
CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Martina Navratilova overcame a slow start before using her devastating power to defeat Mima Jausovec 3-6, 6-2, 6-1 in the final of the Women's Tennis Classic. She then teamed with Betty Stove of The Netherlands to win the doubles title, 6-4, 6-4, over Pam Teeguarden of the United States and Regina Marsikova of The Soviet Union.

BROOKLINE, Mass. — Fourth-seeded Eddie Dibbs sweated out a 6-4, 6-2 victory over No. 5 Dick Stockton in the quarter-final round of the $135,000 U.S. Pro Tennis Championships. In other action, Manuel Orantes of Spain eliminated unseeded Ivan Molina of Colombia 6-4, 6-2.

HARRISON, N.Y. — Argentina's Guillermo Vilas crushed John McEnroe of Douglaston, N.Y. 6-1, 6-2 and gained the final of the $25,000 Tennis Week Open round-robin tennis tournament at the Westchester Country Club. He will face Ilie Nastase, who gained the final with a 6-2, 7-6 victory over Zeljko Franulovic in a match in which the fiery Romanian was penalized three points for arguments and obscene gestures. McEnroe will meet Ricardo Cano, who scored a 1-6, 6-4, 6-4 triumph over Franulovic, for third-place.

AUTO RACING
ZANDVOORT, The Netherlands — Niki Lauda of Austria won the Dutch Grand Prix in a Ferrari and increased his lead in the Formula 1 world championship series. Second was Jacques Laffite of France in Ligier-Matra. Jody Scheckter of South Africa in a Wolf-Ford was third.

BRISTOL, Tenn. — Cale Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C. won his fourth straight Grand National stock car race, capturing the 17th annual Volunteer 400 at Bristol International Speedway. It was the seventh victory in the last 10 races here for the Chevrolet driver, who finished less than one car length ahead of Darrell Waltrip.

Star Killed
BOLOGNA, Italy (AP) — Sandro Vitali, a former major league soccer star, was killed in an auto accident Friday morning, police reported. He was 32.

Other Area Teams Eliminated Fister's Regional Champ

As Rich Robards goes, so goes Fister's Realty of St. Joseph. At least that's the way it went over the weekend for Fister's in the Class B Regional Fast Pitch Softball Tournament at Coldwater.

Fister's won two of three from Carey's of Burr Oak. In the two games in which Robards started, Fister's finished on top 2-1 in nine innings and 1-0. In the one contest in which he didn't pitch, Fister's was ripped 13-0.

Fister's was the only area team to capture a regional over the weekend. Stroh's of Niles and D & D Tire of Niles both lost two straight in the Class C and D fast pitch regionals, respectively.

In the two women's fast pitch regionals, Coloma Dairy Queen and Brown's Construction of Niles dropped two of three in the respective Class C and D tournaments.

Robards pitched a four-hitter and struck out eight in Fister's extra-inning victory. Paul Knuth was the hitting star for the winners. Knuth belted a home run in the fifth inning to tie the game and then won the contest in the ninth with a run-scoring single.

Paul's brother, Mike, walked to open the decisive inning and was sacrificed to second to set up Paul's heroics.

After getting just four hits in the second-game loss, Fister's incredibly was held hitless in the championship game. The game's only run was scored in the first. Ken Nolte led off for Fister's by drawing a walk. Nolte went to second on a balk, was sacrificed to third and scored on Dan Knuth's sacrifice fly.

Fister's will compete over the Labor Day Weekend in the Class B state tournament at Traverse City.

Stroh's dropped 8-7 and 5-0 decisions to Adrian Merchants in the Class C tourney at Niles. Stroh's held a 6-3 lead in the first game going into the sixth inning. But Adrian tallied five times to capture the game. Bill Haslett and Don Gugliotta belted home runs for the winners.

Stroh's collected just three hits in the second contest.

Linda Thaler pitched a four-hitter in the only Coloma victory in women's play. Coloma dropped the first game 12-9, won the second behind Thaler 6-1 and lost the final 13-5 to Kal-Port Merchants.

In the third game, Roberta Salay slammed a home run and a single and Barb Mileski had two hits. But an early 7-1 Kal-Port lead was too much to overcome.

After winning the first game 7-2, Brown's dropped two straight to City Janitor Service of Kalamazoo in the Class D tourney. City Janitors won the next two 12-7 and 13-1.

Jill Lipski was the winning pitcher in the first game for Brown's. Patty Couchman was the top hitter for Brown's with three hits in the three games.

D & D lost 6-3 and 11-9 in eight innings to Premier Realty of Coldwater. In the second contest, D & D trailed 7-0 after three innings.

Sparked by a two-run homer by Wayne Maxwell and a three-run shot by Phil Arneling, D & D rallied to grab a 9-8 lead in the seventh. But Premier tied the game in the seventh and won it in the eighth. Al Shembarger collected four hits for the losers.

Rain Declared Champion In Bertuca Invitational

Rain ended up the champion of the Bertuca Invitational 16-inch softball tournament played at Plangger's Park over the weekend.

Host Bertuca Bonding and the national champion Chicago Bobcats were playing the title game when rain forced the cancellation of the last game with the score 0-0 in the fourth inning.

The Bobcats came out of the loser's bracket, playing five games Sunday, to beat Bertuca's 5-0 to force the second game in the double elimination tourney. Only Ron Lange, Herk Dorgelo, Marty Scherr and Zeke Zebell had hits for Bertuca's.

Unless both teams meet in the nationals in St. Louis on Labor Day weekend, the title game won't be made up.

Bertuca's won their first five games to get into the championship round. The locals beat Whiting Sports Center of Whiting, Ind., 8-0, miniature Bar of Michigan City 17-1, Ken's Foodtown of Benton Harbor 5-1, Gratty's of Michigan City 4-2 and Scotch Mist of Chicago 3-1.

Scotch Mist wound up in third place in the tournament. Bargain Center of Benton Harbor was seventh and Plangger's and Tyrt of Coloma also entered teams.

Willie Simpson of the Bobcats was voted the tournament's Most Valuable Player. He won similar honors at the nationals last season.

Chicago Desegregation Gets Off To Uneasy Start

By SUE SHELLINGER
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago has begun, under pressure, what many regard as only a token and ineffectual effort to desegregate its public schools.

And reaction among both blacks and whites has been so immediate and forceful that apprehension has snared about the more extensive steps likely to be required in the future.

—White parents from one neighborhood held a noisy demonstration in front of the mayor's office last week, some carrying signs reading "Leave the Schools to Us," and "I'm White and I Will Fight."

—Some black parents formed a coalition to fight desegregation, arguing "no evidence" demonstrates it improves educational quality and that black children would face a "hostile environment" in white schools.

—Police Supt. James M. Rochford pledged to put policemen in classrooms if necessary when school opens Sept. 7, and black leaders vowed to demand federal troops from President Carter if police are unsuccessful in preventing violence.

The Illinois Board of Education forced the move toward desegregation with a threat to cut off state funds. The Chicago School Board responded with a voluntary busing program as the first of several steps toward a major desegregation effort in 1978.

The busing program allows students in certain overcrowded schools — nearly all of them black — to board buses and ride to uncrowded schools in other neighborhoods — mostly white.

About 6,500 students are estimated to be eligible for such transfers, but as of last week only 800 had volunteered. There are about 500,000 students in the Chicago school system.

To many who remember violence over school desegregation efforts in Boston and Louisville last year, response to pressure from the state school board looks more palatable than willing for the federal court action which otherwise would seem inevitable.

But Chicago school officials face one of the knottiest desegregation problems in the nation.

The city has a 75 per cent minority school population, rigid district boundaries between the city and its mostly white suburbs, and in some cases equally rigid racial boundaries, created by tradition, between neighborhoods.

The busing plan, denounced as "piecemeal" and "a sham reform" by persons on both sides of the desegregation issue, has heightened tension on Chicago's Southwest Side, the scene of racial violence this summer, parents and civil rights leaders say.

"At this point all the signs point to violence," said the Rev. Jesse Jackson, Chicago civil rights leader and national president of Operation PUSH.

Jackson said he has organized a group of ministers to escort children to school on opening day and has set meetings with several officials to demand protection for students. He said he will ask the President to call out federal troops if necessary.

School officials are still hoping for more busing volunteers and have sent a mailing to 22,000 families to urge them to send their children to less crowded schools.

But many black parents say they want no part of it.

"Few parents have applied for transfers, because the alternative between overcrowding and violence is really no alternative at all," Jackson said, stressing the need for school quality as well as desegregation.

"The way things are going now, I don't care who they put out there, the police or anybody else, they're not going to be safe," said Helen Green, former president of the District 27 parents council on the South Side and a member of the citywide advisory committee. "I don't know any parents who are going to participate."

If successful, the busing program would solve only part of the schools' segregation problem. Although the school population is about 75 per cent minority and 25 per cent white, schools range from 100 per cent black to 100 per cent white, and more half of Chicago's schools are 95 per cent black.

State regulations require the racial makeup of each school to reflect the composition of the district as a whole within 15 per cent.

The spotlight rests now on a 40-member citywide advisory committee to the Chicago board that is trying to prepare a comprehensive desegregation plan for fall of 1978.

The success school, desegregation chief Edward Welling had just getting the committee established and working since May is viewed as a victory by many. But the committee is having its problems.

"It's a very segregated committee talking about integration," said a representative from a Northwest Side district. "It's an impossible situation. They vote in blocs, the blacks outnumber the whites."

Others see cause for hope. Mrs. Green says the committee work is "taking shape. I'm still at the point that I believe we can win if we work at it. We must sit down and come up with a plan that has the grassroots support of each community. Until you get that, you haven't got a thing."

SHUTTLE AT WORK: This artist's concept depicts the space shuttle in Earth orbit with a space telescope in the payload bay. Unlike the largely scientific quests of most of the 30 U.S. manned space flights to date,

Shuttle Opens New Space Era

By HOWARD BENEDICT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)

Envyed by the successful first free flight of the space shuttle Enterprise, the nation's space program once again appears healthy and vigorous, advancing on a broad front with clearly defined goals.

The Enterprise's stubby wings carry the promise of cheaper, far easier access to space and eventually, perhaps, its colonization.

Unlike the adventures and largely scientific quests of most of the 30 U.S. manned space flights to date, those in this new era of the spaceplane will emphasize human needs and economic benefits.

That's the message being passed by President Carter as he prepares to place his imprint on the first National Aeronautics and Space Administration budget to come before him.

The prospect of the shuttle has restored some of the old bounce to NASA, which has not sent anyone into space in the last two years.

Memories of the glory days of Mercury, Gemini, Apollo and Skylab were revived Aug. 12 when the Enterprise flew for five minutes after being ejected from the back of a Boeing 747 over Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

The two astronauts aboard, Fred Haise Jr. and C. Gordon Fullerton, skillfully guided their 75-ton craft from a height of five miles in a long glide to a perfect landing on the hard surface of a dry desert lake, duplicating maneuvers to be performed when later shuttles return to an earth landing strip from orbit.

"This ship's going to revolutionize the way we do business in space," said moonwalker

John Young, a veteran of four space missions; after the brief test.

Much remains to be done before that prophecy comes true — and the nation sends a fleet of these Buck Rogers-style vehicles shuttling between earth and orbit.

More drop tests from the Boeing jumbo jet are scheduled to check various flying characteristics of the shuttle. But barring major difficulty, John F. Yardley, NASA associate administrator for space flight, said the first shuttle should be on a Cape Canaveral,

Nation Has
Defined Goals

Fla., launching pad in March 1979.

That probably will be only a two-day flight, with two astronauts aboard. It would be the first of six orbital test flights planned for the craft that year. To perfect landing techniques, the first four are to land on the desert expanses near Edwards. After that, landings will be on a 15,000-foot runway that has been built near the launch site at Cape Canaveral.

After a flight, a shuttle will be refurbished for another launching, an operation expected to take two weeks or less. NASA says each of the projected five shuttles should be able to make 100 or more round trips into orbit. Yardley said he sees no reason why each can't fly as many as 500 times.

ing things manned space vehicles have never tried before.

They will be used to position satellites in orbit for communications, navigation, weather forecasting, military reconnaissance and scientific research. The crewmen — up to seven on a mission — will be able to repair an ailing satellite or bring it back for maintenance, cutting costs and considerably extending the lives of many payloads.

With the capacity of hauling up to 65,000 pounds, these spaceplanes, once in orbit, also will launch probes bound for other planets. And they will carry up a small station called Spacelab, being developed by a consortium of 11 Western European countries. Spacelab also will be capable of repeated round trips into orbit, perhaps as many as 50.

Eventually, the shuttle fleet may ferry people and parts for the construction of solar space stations, space factories, moon bases and habitats for colonies far beyond earth.

A recent NASA-sponsored study concluded that a space settlement for 10,000 people could be a reality 20 years after a decision to build it.

Yardley said a go-ahead for such a colony would be based not on technology, but on social and political reasoning. He said the project is already feasible.

"Before we make that commitment we would have to have a better understanding of why we want to colonize space," said NASA Administrator Robert A. Frosch.

Yardley said that during an early shuttle flight, NASA hopes to orbit a 25-kilowatt, solar-powered generator, to which the spaceplanes could dock, drawing electricity to extend their

Says He Paid For Honesty

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has been sued by one of its engineering technicians, who claims he was harassed for failing to help cover up the internal theft of a truck engine. Ronald L. Ragan has filed the suit in Wayne County Circuit Court. He asked damages of $800,000 for harassment, being passed over for promotion and being denied access to his performance reviews.

Ragan said he was the victim of a "personal vendetta" because he refused to get involved in the theft of an engine from a truck borrowed by a superior. The suit said an executive engineer borrowed the truck for personal use. When it was returned, the 302-cubic inch engine was missing, Ragan said.

PUBLIC SERVICE EMPLOYMENT PROJECTS

The Berrien County CETA Program is again accepting applications for short-term Special Public Service Employment Projects, pursuant to revisions of the Title VI Federal Regulations. Funding will be available because of current Special Projects ending.

Eligible applicants include units of general purpose local government and agencies thereof, combinations of associations of such governmental units whose primary purpose is to provide public services, special purpose political subdivisions having the power to tax and spend funds, local educational agencies, institutions of higher education, community development corporations, non-profit groups and organizations serving Indians and other non-profit private organizations or institutions engaged in public service. A portion of the overall funding allocation to Berrien County will be used in projects to non-profit groups and organizations.

Projects may begin November 1, 1977 with other starting dates staggered thereafter. Project duration must be a minimum of three (3) months and must be completed by September 30, 1978. Projects must be clearly defined specific tasks, which have a product or accomplishment when completed and which would not otherwise be accomplished with existing funds. If a project proposes to expand a current public service to any degree, the specific end project of the expansion of services must be defined and an explanation of how the need for the expanded level of service will no longer exist at the conclusion of the project.

Public service activity includes, but is not limited to, the following: beautification, conservation, crime prevention and control, education, child care, environmental quality, fire protection, health care, housing and neighborhood improvements, manpower service, parks, streets and other public safety, recreation, rural development, solid waste removal, transportation, veterans outreach, community surveys or canvassing, etc. It excludes building and highway construction work (except that which the applicant is authorized to do and would normally perform itself rather than contract out). The CETA Act forbids participants to be employed in the construction, operation or maintenance of such part of any facility as is used or will be used for sectarian instruction or as a place of religious worship.

Special Projects applications are currently available at the CETA Office, 145 West Main Street, Benton Harbor, Michigan 49022, 927-2476. The allocation of special project funds will be by project approval. The deadline for all project applications is 5:00 p.m. on Friday, September 16, 1977.

WHEN THE AAA OFFICES ARE CLOSED, THE TRAVEL
INFORMATION
IS STILL OPEN

When a AAA member wants travel services and the local offices are closed, the Travel Information Center (T.I.C.) is still open.

With just a phone call, AAA members can get:

- Triptiks, maps and Tourbooks (mailed to you)
- Hotel-motel reservations in the U.S. and Canada
- Answers on traffic, road conditions and detours
- Tips on where the fish are biting
- News about Michigan festivals and events
- Information on license plates, hunting and fishing licenses and campsite availabilities

AAA members can find the Travel Information Center phone numbers including the statewide toll-free number on their membership card. T.I.C. serves members from 8 a.m. to midnight, Monday through Saturday... from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday... and 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Sundays during holiday weekends.

Also serving round-the-clock are more than 500 Emergency Road Service contract garages throughout Michigan. Just a phone call and membership card brings AAA to your rescue with pre-paid emergency road service.

And this Labor Day weekend, listen for AAA Holiday News Service reports with information on traffic jams, where campgrounds and motels are available, where fish are biting, etc.

We want to do more for you...

All AAA branch offices will be closed Saturday, Sept. 3, through Monday, Sept. 5. Have a nice holiday.

Thousands Of Crooks 'Home Free'

DETROIT (AP) — Several Wayne County law enforcement officials are renewing cries for a cleanup campaign to rid Detroit of violent criminals who still walk the streets.

A Detroit Recorder's Court study concludes about 8,500 lawbreakers, some convicted of murder, are free because no major effort has been made to find them. The study includes persons who have evaded arrest, jumped bail, or violated probation since 1970.

"It is a horrendous situation and it has been allowed to develop because nobody has really been concerned about it," said Terry O'Boyle of the Wayne County Prosecutor's office.

"We are talking about individuals who have warrants issued on them for felonies or who have already been convicted. They avoid the police for a while or jump bail or probation and that is it. They are home free," said O'Boyle.

The survey, disclosed Sunday by the Detroit Free Press, shows that during the past seven years, there have been an estimated 2,531 felony warrants issued but never served; 2,422 outstanding bail jumping cases and 3,473 warrants for violation of probation. Some 145 were for murder or manslaughter.

Detroit Deputy Police Chief Gerald Hale said he was "not surprised" at the figures. "We know they are out there and we are arresting them every day," he said. Several law enforcement officials spoke of creating a special squad, either on a city or county level, which would chase down the fugitives wanted for the most serious crimes.

"We're already going after these people, and we plan to upgrade our capability to do so in the near future," Hale said. "I think there's a real need for us to actively search out these people more than we have in the past because they are actually thumbing their noses at the criminal justice system."

Al Montgomery of the Wayne County Criminal Justice Section, the man who asked for the survey, said he thought the figures overestimated the problem. His guess was that "about 2,000 hard-core types were out there and should be gone after." One judge, who was not identified, said most of the 8,500 fugitives are not worth chasing.

Kidnaper And Woman Sighted

EVELYN VAN TASSEL
The Description Fits

STEPHENSON, Mich. (AP) — A couple fitting the description of a prison farm escapee and a Marquette woman he allegedly abducted have been spotted in two places in Wisconsin, state police said here today.

Word of the sightings came as authorities began a massive aerial search for Douglas Henry, 22, and Evelyn Van Tassel, 58, for whose safety they feared.

Three off-duty Milwaukee police officers reported Sunday afternoon they sighted the blue car belonging to the kidnaper near Wausau, Wis., about 20 miles south of the Wisconsin-Michigan line, troopers at the Stephenson state police post said.

The three officers recalled the letters on the license plate as three Bs. The plates on the blue Volkswagen Dasher belonging to the Van Tassel woman also had three Bs.

Mrs. Van Tassel was abducted at knife-point last Thursday by a man state police said was Henry, who escaped from a Marquette prison farm a week ago.

Henry was described as a drug addict. His stepfather called him "absolutely crazy" when crossed.

The three Milwaukee officers also reported that they saw a young man and older woman in the car. The officers said they were not aware of the abduction at the time, but they later heard a news broadcast about it and reported the sighting to state police.

Marquette County deputies told state police here a woman spotted the couple in Langlade County, Wisconsin, about 70 miles northwest of the three officers' sighting.

The woman said she and her husband went to a summer cabin they own and as they arrived, they saw a young man and older woman run away from the building, get into a blue Dasher, and drive off, leaving warm food on a table inside.

Investigators admitted Sunday their multi-state search failed to turn up a single solid lead on the whereabouts of Mrs. Van Tassel, whose husband Leo, 65, is a retired Northern Michigan University vice president. A state police helicopter will launch the aerial search, authorities said early today. Additional aircraft might be sent in later.

"All I am doing is praying for that poor woman," said Ralph D. Henry of Lainsburg, stepfather of the alleged kidnaper. "He is a regular wild man... When something sets him off, he goes absolutely crazy. I just can't understand why he grabbed that woman."

The stepfather said his stepson has "an uncontrollable temper." He said Henry recently wrote him angry letters and the stepfather expressed fear Henry may "try to come after me."

"All we can do is sit by the phone and hope and pray," said Marilyn Van Tassel, daughter of the abducted woman.

State police placed little credence in one tip they got Saturday night from a phone caller who declined to give his name.

The tipster said he spotted an auto, answering the description of the wanted car, near Lathrop in Delta County and that it contained a young man driving and a woman passenger. Police did not explain why they doubted the report.

'Learning Center' To Open In Van Buren

LEARNING CENTER: Van Buren county's new $1 million Learning Center, a school for handicapped, will be open for classes Thursday. School is located next to Van Buren intermediate school district offices and Skills Center on Paw Paw street in Lawrence. (Staff photos)

$1 Million School For Handicapped

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

LAWRENCE — The Learning Center, the Van Buren intermediate school district's new $1 million facility for the handicapped, is scheduled to open for the first day of classes Thursday.

Designed by Richard Prince and Associates, Kalamazoo, the 25,500 square foot building features nine classrooms, a workshop, therapy pool, multi-purpose room, conference rooms, and offices.

"The building was designed with the idea of maximizing the space available to the kids and minimizing the amount of office space," said Hugh McBratnie, the intermediate district's supervisor of special education.

McBratnie said enrollment this fall is expected to be about 70 students, but that the building can eventually accommodate up to 120.

Construction and equipment of the school was financed by a $1,010,000 bond issue approved by intermediate district voters in February, 1976. At the same time, voters also approved a 1.5-mill property tax levy for special education programs which will be used to run the facility.

For about the last 12 years, handicapped students have attended classes in five portable units and the Arlington township hall near Bangor, according to Bert Goens, the intermediate district's director of special education. Children were confined to the same room all day, and facilities for recreation and vocational education were extremely limited, he said.

Under state law, schools are obligated to provide for the education of the handicapped from birth to age 26.

Goens said the Learning Center's staff will include seven teachers, 10 teacher aides, two occupational therapists, and one physical therapist.

McBratnie said the facility will be operated much like a junior high, in that older students will change classes every 50 minutes. Teaching will be "departmentalized" into four areas — communications, physical education, home economics, and vocational development, he said.

In home economics, McBratnie said students will learn not only such things as cooking, but also basic living skills such as manners, how to make a bed, or vacuum a floor.

"It's easy to forget that the basic living things we take for granted must be taught to these kids," McBratnie said.

The communications area includes such basic skills as speaking, reading, and arithmetic. The workshop, which will include a loom for weaving and a kiln, will be used to teach concepts of work, rather than specific skills, Goens said.

He noted that the Skills Center, the district's vocational training school, which is located just east of the Learning Center, will provide lunch for students. A small number of Learning Center students will also be enrolled in Skills Center vocational programs.

The administrators noted that among the features of the building are two-way mirrors in each classroom. Parents and teachers will be able to observe children without disturbing the classroom.

The building has also been constructed to accommodate the installation of solar panels at a later date. The panels would be used to provide up to 30 per cent of the building's heating needs at a substantial cost saving over a period of years, according to intermediate Supt. Ernest Shaw.

The district applied for a $165,000 grant from the federal Energy Research Development administration last spring to install the solar panels, but was turned down. Shaw said the district will resubmit its application this fall.

MULTI-PURPOSE ROOM: Adjustable backboards which can be lowered to eight feet to allow children in wheelchairs to play basketball are one of features in multi-purpose room at new Van Buren Learning Center. Small asphalt track is also being built behind school for use during Special Olympics and as place where children can exercise.

Installation Goes Awry

LELAND, Mich. (AP) — A Traverse City man was electrocuted and a companion was severely burned when the television antenna they were installing touched a high voltage power line.

Leelanau County authorities identified the victims as Jerry Campbell, 39, owner of an Elmwood Township home where the accident occurred Saturday.

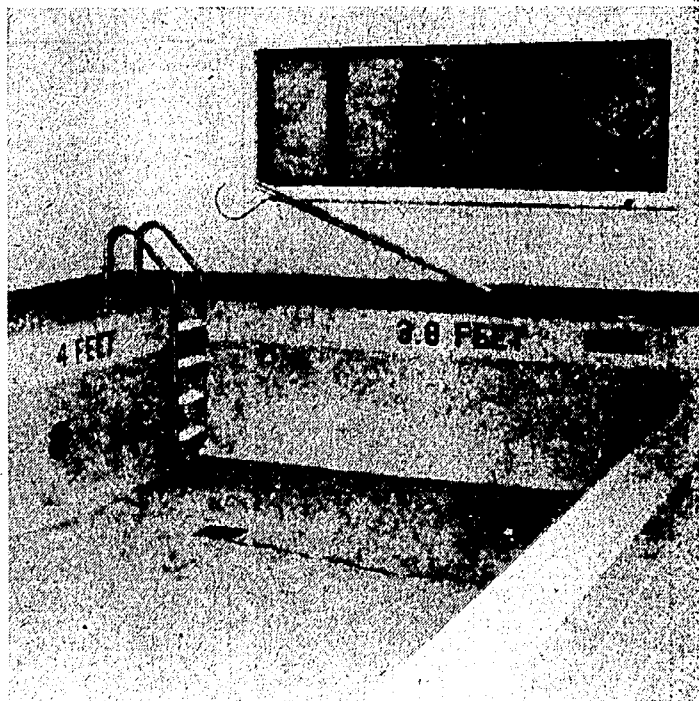

Campbell and 55-year-old George Phillips were attempting to install the antenna when it touched a 14,500-volt electrical line.

Phillips was transferred from a Traverse City hospital to St. Joseph Hospital's burn center in Ann Arbor, where he was listed in serious condition.

HOME ECONOMICS ROOM: Students at Van Buren Learning Center will not only be taught such traditional home economics skills as sewing and cooking, but also how to make bed and vacuum floor. Part of home economics room will later have miniature bedroom and living rooms which will be used to practice basic living skills.

POOL: Hoist can be used to lift handicapped students in and out of 20 by 40-foot pool at Van Buren Learning Center. Water ranges from two to four feet. Primary purpose is to allow handicapped youngsters to exercise and develop muscles.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Fruit Sluggish Sunday

Heavy supplies and too few day buyers combined to make Sunday a slow day at the Benton Harbor Fruit Market.

Tomatoes and plums were the only commodities able to hold their own on prices yesterday. Many grapes, peaches and melons went home unsold. Twenty-four day buyers were on the market Sunday along with 400 grower loads.

Little activity was seen Saturday as six day buyers were on hand to bid on 62 grower loads. A total of 4,350 packages were sold Saturday.

Prices reported for Sunday were:

TOMATOES: Mich 1, 8-qt carton, $1.50 to $2; 8-basket crate, $5; 12-qt jumbo, unclassified, $1.50-$2.25. Receipts: 10,526.

PEACHES: 3/4 bu crate, US 1, 2 1/2-inch-up, Cresthaven, $6; half-bu, unclassified, Cresthaven, Kalhaven, and Redskin, $3, large, $3.50-$4, many unsold. Receipts: 5,044.

CANTALOUPS: Burpee Hybrid, bu, US 1, $4-$4.50. Receipts: 1,615.

GRAPES: 12-qt jumbo, unclassified, Fredonia and Concord, $3-$3.50; Champions, $2.25. Receipts: 1,785.

CUCUMBERS: bu, US 1, $3.50; unclassified, $2-$2.75; 12-qt jumbo, Pickles, $2-$2.50. Receipts: 807.

APPLES: half-bu, unclassified, McIntosh, $2.50-$3, some large, $3.25; Red Delicious, $3-$3.50; Wolf River, $2.50-$3. Receipts: 1,475 bushel equivalents.

PLUMS: half-bu, Stanley, $4. Receipts: 1,459.

PEARS: half-bu, unclassified, Bartlett, $2-$3. Receipts: 159 bushel equivalents.

SQUASH: bu, Acorn, $2.75-$5; 8-qt carton, Zucchini, $1.25. Receipts: 3,006.

PEPPERS: bu, $2.75-$5. Receipts: 286.

BEANS: bu, round green type, $2.75-$5. Receipts: 169.

EGGPLANT: bu, $5. Receipts: 142.

The volume over the weekend was 27,115 packages, brought in on 503 grower loads.

Fire Burns Wall Of Factory

SOUTH HAVEN — Fire Saturday night damaged a rear wall and the roof to the Hamlin-Overton Co., Aylworth avenue, according to South Haven firemen.

The 5:20 p.m. fire, which was reported by neighbors, apparently started in a pile of crates and spread to the building, firemen said.

The interior of the building was not damaged. The cause of the fire has not been determined, but firemen said they are investigating the possibility it may have been deliberately set.

There was no immediate estimate of damage.

Expert Sees Some Bumpy Auto Years

DETROIT (AP) — An auto marketing expert predicts annual new car sales will climb to 15 million by the mid-1980's, but says there may be some lean years before then.

The trade publication Ward's Automotive Reports quoted an unidentified auto marketing expert as saying Big Three producers are optimistic about long term sales prospects for both cars and trucks.

"We are not masters of our own fate," he said. "I foresee U.S. sales of nearly 15 million new cars and 5 million trucks in the mid-1980's but let's face it, we are entering a period that is difficult to project."

Ward's said, "The route the industry must take to get to 1985 due to cost of government emissions, regulations, passive restraints, gasoline prices, inflation, steady increases in car prices, changes in length of car ownership may be bumpy ones indeed."

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Look At Bracket With Tax Exempts

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. I retired last year and have about $30,000 in 6 1/2 and 7 1/2 per cent savings certificates. It breaks my heart to pay income taxes on the interest. I worked hard for that money. A friend suggested I buy tax-exempt bonds. I'm enclosing some data on 8 1/2 per cent bonds offered me. (The bonds are not rated, but are supposed to be safe.)

A. You fail to provide a very important bit of information: What is your income tax bracket?

If the interest on this $30,000 is your only income other than Social Security (which is not taxable) then your total income from taxable sources is only about $2,100 — which presents no serious income tax problem. If you have substantial other taxable income, then we proceed to step 2.

How good are the bonds?

Answer: I don't know. They are (from what I can make out) high yield bonds issued to finance a road or bridge. You would have to satisfy yourself that the backing for the bonds goes beyond merely the revenues to be obtained from road or bridge. If they are the general obligation of a strong county government, that would be something else again.

I notice the premium asked for the bond is sufficient to cut almost a half point off the current yield, making it 8 per cent instead of 8 1/2. So now you must figure how much the taxable income from a top quality 8 to 8 1/4 per cent corporate bond would be reduced by your top income tax bracket. You might then have a better basis for evaluating the risk you want to assume for the sake of this 8 per cent tax-free revenue bond.

Q. I'd like to set up an investment program for my son, 25. Over the years he could build a sizable sum if he invested monthly in blue chip stocks yielding 15 per cent.

A. "Blue chip" and "15 per cent" are two terms which are at opposite ends of the investment book. Even if you combine annual dividend and average annual growth you are not likely to approach 15 per cent. Over the years, a good target for this combined reward would be around 9 per cent — and that only "if the weather be good."

I'm sending you a list of standard, proven (which, of course, is history) growth-type stocks. You will have to take it from there.

Q. I have some money in a stock mutual fund which I would like to transfer to a bond fund now that I am retiring at 72. But the transfer can't be made without paying new commissions. I'm thinking of another bond fund. Or should I buy some utility bonds paying 11 1/2 per cent?

A. I'd recent been asked to pay another full commission to transfer money from one member of a mutual fund "family" to another. It seems to me that if you have paid around 9 per cent once, you've paid your dues. If you can't switch without paying a full commission, either redeem your shares and put the money into a no-load bond fund or buy some good utility bonds directly. The commission should be far less than 9 per cent.

As to that 11 1/2 per cent bond: It sells at a substantial premium above par, so your current yield is less — and the "yield to maturity" still less.

Stocks Head Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices headed higher today in another bid to rally after the slide of the past five weeks.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which had fallen 80 points from mid-July through the end of last week, rose more than 3 points in early trading today.

Gainers led losers by close to a 2-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said traders seemed to be buying on the theory that the market was due for an upswing after its steady slide of late.

They noted that blue chip issues had begun to turn upward in the latter stages of Friday's session.

Today's early prices included General Motors, up 3/4 at 66 1/4; Alcoa, ahead 3/4 at 47, and U.S. Steel, 1/4 higher at 32 1/4.

On Friday the Dow Jones industrial average rose 1.30 to 855.42, cutting its loss for the week to 8.06 points.

But losers outnumbered gainers by more than a 3-2 margin in the daily tally on the NYSE.

The Big Board's composite index dropped .07 to 52.60, finishing just above its previous 1977 closing low of 52.56 on May 31.

NYSE volume came to 18.48 million shares, against 19.40 million on Thursday.

Delco Strike Ended

DETROIT (AP) — Some 10,000 General Motors workers in Michigan return to work this week following settlement of a new contract at a vital GM parts complex in Indiana closed by a two-week strike.

Bargainers for GM and the United Auto Workers announced they had reached agreement early Sunday on a new three-year local pact for GM's sprawling Delco-Remy Division complex in Anderson, Ind.

The agreement ended the walkout by 12,700 members of UAW Local 662 in Anderson. Workers returned to their jobs beginning with Sunday's second shift. In Michigan, the strike killed the Cadillac assembly and companion Fisher Body Fleetwood plants in Detroit, and Saginaw Steering Gear Division complex in Saginaw. Call-backs were expected for later this week.

Delco-Remy is GM's sole supplier of electrical components, including starters and ignitions, which are needed to build cars and trucks. The walkout, which began Aug. 15, forced GM to halt operations at several other plants and idle thousands of workers as part shortages developed.

GM officials expressed concern that continuing the walkout eventually could have brought the firm's huge production network to a halt from coast to coast, forcing the layoff of hundreds of thousands of employees.

A GM spokesman said workers laid off last week because of the strike probably would not be recalled for several days, depending on how quickly Delco-R

Police Report Weekend Almost Free Of Crime

The past weekend produced the fewest complaints of crimes in the Twin Cities area this summer.

Police said there were no robberies or serious assaults in the Twin Cities, and only seven larceny reports were filed with the six Twin city police agencies.

Vandals appeared as the biggest problem — breaking mailboxes in St. Joseph township and smashing a windshield that injured a motorist.

St. Joseph township police said 16 mailboxes were damaged by vandals on Vineland road and Washington avenue early Sunday morning.

Police said they discovered the damage while on routine patrol at about 5 a.m. They said some of the boxes had been smashed with rocks while the doors on others had been pulled open and bent.

In a separate vandalism incident, St. Joseph township police said Steve Reagan, 2896 Washington avenue, reported a bird bath statue valued at $75 was removed from its mounting and smashed in front of his home last week.

Benton township police reported a woman sustained scratches from flying glass after the windshield of the auto she was driving was shattered by an unknown object Sunday.

According to police, Cathy Shaw, 22, of 249 Ridgeway, Benton township, reported she was driving north on Martin Luther King drive near Britain avenue at 3 p.m. when an object struck the windshield on the driver's side. They said she sought her own treatment at Memorial hospital.

State police from the Benton Harbor post reported a Nashville, Tenn., man was arrested on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon after a .22-caliber pistol was found in an auto stopped by troopers on eastbound I-94 in Benton township.

According to Trooper Gary Shaffer, Larry Eugene Jordan, 28, was booked at the Berrien county jail after his auto was stopped near the St. Joseph river bridge at 1 p.m. Shaffer said the car was clocked at 68 miles per hour before it was stopped and Jordan was ticketed for speeding.

Berrien sheriff's officers reported tools valued at a total of $250 were stolen from the home of Ned Totzke, 7822 Lincoln avenue, Lincoln township.

Deputies also said two televisions and an AM-FM radio, tapeplayer combination unit were reported stolen from the home of Kelly Weatherly, 3663 Duncan road, Benton township.

Benton township police said a CB radio valued at $250 and a wallet containing a handbook, and personal papers but no cash were reported stolen.

House Costs Soar

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of a house has increased almost twice as fast in the last seven years as median income and still higher prices soon can be expected, according to the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

DROUGHT LOOMS AGAIN

PARIS (AP) — Rainfall in the next two or three weeks is critical if nations near the Sahara Desert are to avoid a grim cycle of crop failures, food shortages and immense human misery, Western experts say.

were reported stolen from an auto owned by Millar Long, 409 Urbandale avenue, while the car was parked in a driveway at that address.

Thefts reported to Benton Harbor police were:

—A 16-gauge shotgun valued at $100 from the home of Ronald Mahley, 240 High street.

—A .25-caliber pistol valued at $50 from the home of John Williams, 289 Pleasant street.

—A television set valued at $30 from the home of Bertha Page, 1007 Buss avenue.

Curtain Goes Up On Auto Industry's 'Magic Show'

By OWEN ULLMANN
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The curtain goes up this fall on the 1978 edition of the auto industry's traveling magic show. Among the top acts:

- General Motors will shrink its mid-size cars by up to 18 inches and 800 pounds. The Vega will vanish and a gasoline engine will be made to work on diesel fuel.
- Ford will turn a Comet into a Zephyr and pull extra fuel economy from under the hood.
- Chrysler will make a 18-foot keeps languishing. That's what happened this year. And, the weakening demand for Detroit's small cars was particularly ranking because it coincided with record sales of mostly small imports.

If the same pattern occurs in the new model year, which officially begins Oct. 1, Detroit may have to limit production of big engines, fuel-draining options such as air conditioning or, as a last resort, big cars before the year is out.

So if you are determined to buy a big 1978 model with a big which replace the Maverick and Comet. "We're going to have to sell the hell out of these cars to meet 18," said one company man.

Ford does not want a repeat of 1977, when the unexpected demand for big cars dropped the firm's fleet average from a projected 17.1 m.p.g. for the model year to 16.3.

Chrysler, with a 1977 average of about 16 m.p.g., expects two new subcompacts, Plymouth Horizon and Dodge Omni, and elimination of its full-size Plymouths and Dodges, will get it to 18 m.p.g.

Ford and Chrysler also are importing new small cars from overseas to help reach 18 m.p.g.

In addition, they are developing special incentives for dealers who push small cars. Traditionally, dealers prefer selling big cars, which have a higher markup. But profit margins on small cars have been increased in recent years, and dealers are finding additional earnings in small cars loaded with options.

Here are some highlights of the new-model year from Detroit:

overheated. The Vega will still be around, but under the Monza name and with a cast-iron engine. Similarly, the Vega's twin 'Astre' at Pontiac will be built under the name Sunbird. Chevy also is giving the little Chevette a four-door model.

FORD MOTOR

The No. 2 automaker's Ford Fairmont and Mercury Zephyr will come in two-door, four-door and station wagon models. Excluding the wagon, the compacts will come standard with four-cylinder engines, which had been reserved for subcompacts such as the Pinto. Six- and eight-cylinder engines will be available as options, though.

The cars will be about the size of the defunct Maverick-Comet, but will weigh a few hundred pounds less and average about 28 m.p.g. with the small engine. Ford hopes to sell 350,000 models in 1978, a tough target considering that the sales record for a new car in its first year is 419,000, set by Mustang in 1965.

Ford also is importing a minicar, the Fiesta, from its German subsidiary. The Fiesta bears a very close resemblance to the Volkswagen Rabbit. Like the Rabbit, it has front-wheel drive and gets over 40 m.p.g. on the highway.

CHRYSLER

The No. 3 automaker is dropping its full-size Plymouths and Dodges, leaving only Chrysler with a big model.

In January, the firm will unveil its first U.S.-built subcompact, Plymouth Horizon and Dodge Omni. They also will be the first little cars assembled here with front-wheel drive. Their four-cylinder, transverse-mounted engines initially are being built by Volkswagen. But Chrysler plans to offer its own engines later in the year.

At 162 inches in length and 2,500 pounds in weight, Horizon and Omni will be slightly bigger than GM's Chevette. They will come only as four-door models at first, and are expected to sell for about $4,000.

Chrysler also will import two more Japanese cars from Mitsubishi, which furnishes the Plymouth Arrow and Dodge Colt. The Plymouth Sapporo and Dodge Challenger will be sportier and more expensive than Arrow and Colt.

Chrysler's highly-styled Cordoba and its companion Dodge Charger SE get front and rear changes to freshen their looks for 1978.

AMERICAN MOTORS

AMC is restyling its compact Hornet and redubbing it Concord. It will come in two-door, four-door, hatchback and station-wagon models.

In a move counter to the rest of the industry, AMC is putting an optional V-8 engine in its wide-bodied Pacer, which had been available only with six cylinders. AMC, which has raised the Pacer's hood to accommodate the V-8, says it made the change because of complaints that the car lacked power.

CAMARO'S A 'SOFTIE': Camaro's looks for 1978 are freshened with new body-colored soft nose section and rear bumper. T-Bar roof is new for 1978, too. Camaro's available in five models, including the Z28 with special handling suspension, 350 V-8, four-barrel carb and dual exhausts.

Top Acts Include Shrinking, Disappearing, Changing Cars

long, two-ton car disappear, and put a 13½-foot, 1½-ton model in its place. It will make four Japanese imports from just two.

—American Motors will change a Hornet into a Concord and produce a bigger engine from a Pacer.

—It's not really magic, of course. But the changes set for 1978 are astonishing, nevertheless, as Detroit continues its rapid move toward smaller, more fuel-efficient vehicles.

One of the few things that won't shrink are prices. They will grow, by up to six per cent or $400 a car on the average. The industry blames it on rising costs.

Behind Detroit's incredible shrinking act is a federal fuel economy law designed to conserve energy supplies.

The law, which auto executives say robs them of their freedom to give consumers what they want, requires the industry to meet a minimum fuel economy standard of 18 miles per gallon for 1978.

Detroit hopes the new small models sell well enough so that the companies can meet the standard without restricting consumers' free choice. The industry may give buyers a little push in the desired direction by jacking up prices on big cars and engines, and showing more pricing restraint on small models.

Even so, trouble could develop if demand for big cars and engines exceeds projections, and interest in smaller models keeps languishing.

That's what happened this year. And, the weakening demand for Detroit's small cars was particularly ranking because it coincided with record sales of mostly small imports.

If the same pattern occurs in the new model year, which officially begins Oct. 1, Detroit may have to limit production of big engines, fuel-draining options such as air conditioning or, as a last resort, big cars before the year is out.

So if you are determined to buy a big 1978 model with a big

TODAY In History

Today is Monday, Aug. 29th, the 241st day of 1877. There are 124 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

- On this date in 1782, nearly 1,100 persons drowned when an English man-of-war sank while being repaired in the harbor at Portsmouth, England.
- On this date:
- In 1533, the last Inca King of Peru, Atahualpa, was strangled on the orders of the Spanish conqueror, Francisco Pizarro.
- In 1817, the first abolition newspaper in the United States, the Philanthropist, was published in Mount Pleasant, Ohio.
- In 1801, the temperance crusader, Carry Nation, swung her hatchet in an attack on a New York saloon run by former heavyweight boxing champion John L. Sullivan.
- In 1935, Queen Astrid of Belgium was killed in an auto accident in Switzerland.
- In 1943, Danish warships were scuttled at Copenhagen in an uprising against the Nazis during World War II.
- In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur left Manila for Japan to accept the Japanese surrender.
- Ten years ago: Viet Cong guerrillas released 1,200 prisoners from a provincial jail under cover of a mortar attack.
- Five years ago: President Richard Nixon announced a cut of 12,000 in U.S. forces in Vietnam.
- One year ago: A Senate report on the Medicaid program said federal action was needed to correct what it called "abysmal" administration of the program at all levels.
- Today's birthdays: General Lyman Lemnitzer is 78 years old. Actor Barry Sullivan is 68.
- Thought for today: "When you have got a thing where you want it, it is a good thing to leave it where it is." — Winston Churchill.

HOLIDAY ROAST SPICED BEEF

- 1 STANDING RIB OF BEEF (our special this week)
- 1 tsp. CINNAMON
- 1 tsp. GROUND CARDAMON
- 1 tsp. GINGER
- 1 tsp. NUTMEG
- 1 tsp. GROUND BLACK PEPPER
- 3 GARLIC CLOVES

MIX SPICES TOGETHER-SLICE GARLIC-HEAT OVEN TO 350° RUB SPICES ON BEEF WELL INSIDE AND OUT. PUT IN GARLIC SLICES. LET SET AT LEAST 20 MINUTES TO 1/2 HOUR AND ROAST (30 MINUTES PER POUND). THIS ROAST CAN BE DONE ON THE SPIT OF YOUR GRILL. HOWEVER, THE TASTE IS BETTER WHEN DONE IN THE OVEN. SERVE WITH BROWN ROASTED POTATOES, A GRILLED TOMATO AND A SIDE SALAD OF CHILLED WATER-CRESS TOPPED WITH A HARD BOILED EGG.
